Additional Snow Snarls Transportation In Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new snowstorm struck the already blizzard-ravaged Eastern Seaboard today with up to 14 inches of additional snow that tangled transportation in some areas, played havoc with thousands of commuters and forced school closings.

But as dawn broke, the storm appeared to be tapering off and rising temperatures were expected to help melt the white stuff. In several states along the Eastern Seaboard, the snow had stopped by daylight, but not before leaving great accumulations.

More Hard Fighting In Vietnam Seen

No Extension On Current Ceasefire Predicted By Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Secretary of State Dean Rusk's opinion, the Communists are gearing up for more hard fighting in Vietnam rather than an extension of the current cease-fire for a move to a conference table.

Rusk gave this report at a nationally televised news conference Thursday midway in the allied-proclaimed Feb. 8-12 Lunar New Year cease-fire. The Communists have called for a seven-day truce.

"There have been a disturbing number of violations of that cease-fire," Rusk said.

"We have seen large numbers of boats and other vessels dashing south along the coast of North Vietnam to resupply their (Communist) forces in the southern part of North Vietnam and in the Demilitarized Zone.

"Now this indicates that it is their intention to continue the operations, and the large number of incidents indicates that they are not particularly interested in an actual cease-fire."

The U.S. foreign affairs chief also said he could not report "any tangible forward movement" toward peace talks despite continuing U.S. diplomatic efforts.

Two-Week Old Strike Is Settled

The strike of the members of Local 1153, International Association of Machinist and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, came to a conclusion Thursday afternoon, one day short of two weeks. The strike was called on Friday, Jan. 26.

A hearing was held at the Holiday Inn Wednesday night between representatives of the union, the management of Steam-O-Matic, a division of the Rival Manufacturing Co., with Charles Harding, Federal mediator representing the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Kansas City.

The 215 members and employees of nearly 300 at Steam-O-Matic were present at a meeting held in the Labor Temple Thursday afternoon. Results of the conference were given the members present and a vote was then taken. Results of the election were in effect the majority voted to accept the recommendations of the mediator.

Mrs. Dorothy Embree, president of the Sedalia local, said all 215 members voted after hearing the recommendation of the Federal mediator. She said employees would be called back to work by the company.

Vernon Rodick, representative of Steam-O-Matic, said that lead personnel were being called to report for work Friday to get the plant in order for the employees and that other employees would return to their jobs on Monday.

Steam-O-Matic manufactures electric motors, plastic, broilers, meat slicers and related items. The local factory is a division of the Rival Manufacturing Co., but the strike was against the local division and not against Rival as a whole.

It was reported the recommendation was for 33-cents in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period.

The storm hit Virginia and the Carolinas, then swept northward into New Jersey, New York and New England where millions were still digging out of Tuesday's blizzard that dumped up to 16 inches of snow, took lives and cost millions of dollars in business losses and snow removal expenses.

In Boston, all classes were canceled in the public schools. The wind-driven snow was falling steadily, but the accumulation in downtown Boston at 6 a.m. was only a fraction of an inch.

In Maryland, which was one of the hardest hit states, the storm ended shortly before dawn. Snow emergency plans were in effect in 11 counties.

The storm dumped 11½ inches of snow on Salisbury, on the lower Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Maryland State Police said there were no fatalities, and that all state roads were open. Baltimore City schools also were open, but public schools in four Eastern Shore counties were closed.

The Maryland forecast called for a high of 35 to 40 today with clearing weather.

New York City appeared to have escaped the brunt of the storm. At 7:30 a.m., the Weather Bureau reported an accumulation of only two inches, and the snow had stopped.

Temperatures in New York City were expected to reach a high of 35 to 40.

A Board of Education spokesman said both public and parochial schools would be open today.

Subways were reported running on time but highways generally were said to be slippery.

Mannequin Helps Crime Alert Class

The J. C. Penney Co., here provided Sedalia police with a "corpse" recently to help the department simulate a crime scene as part of a refresher or training course for the officers, it was reported today.

The store front mannequin will be used, Chief of Police William Miller said, to simulate a rape-murder case. Clues will be provided the officers in their investigation" and they are given a week to make the "arrest."

What it all boils down to is that Thursday nights are being utilized by the police department to train its officers in all aspects of police work, including investigation of a crime scene.

The simulated arrangement, it is felt, will help make the situation and work more realistic.

The school is run on a volunteers-come-to-learn basis. Off-duty patrolmen have attended one session already, and many more are yet to be completed. Chief Miller conducts the courses, using a manual in effect in Kansas City as a guide.

Those officers who work the Thursday night shift have an opportunity to attend the same class on Saturday mornings. The Saturday sessions are provided solely for this purpose.

Police officers will be given a chance to learn as much about police work as they care to, ranging from the law enforcement code of ethics through the filing of a report, Miller said.

Set Regional Plan Meeting For Feb. 23

A public hearing to form a regional planning commission has been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Feb. 23, at the Saline County Court House, Marshall, Philip V. Maher, Director of the Office of State and Regional Planning has announced.

Maher said that this hearing has been called by the Governor as a result of petitions from the County Court of Chariton County and the cities of Sweet Springs, Slater and Malta Bend, Saline County and the City of Bosworth, Carroll County; requesting the creation of a regional planning commission. The public hearing shall include a discussion of the need for regional planning commissions.

Formation of regional planning commissions were authorized by the 73rd General Assembly during the second extra session which concluded this past May, Mr. Maher said.

The purpose of regional planning commissions is to enable communities to develop comprehensive plans which will help them more effectively provide for the many services required in our modern society and, in many cases, to become eligible for various assistance programs such as water and sewer projects, Mr. Maher declared.

Under the new law, the State and Regional Planning and Community Development Act of 1966, regional planning commissions may be created by the Governor after a petition from a local unit of government has been filed with the Governor, a public hearing has been held, and the formation of a commission has been consented to by governmental units representing more than 50 per cent of the proposed region.

Maher said that there has been a tremendous response to this legislation, which indicates a widespread awareness of the importance of regional planning throughout the state.

Offices To Close

Administrative offices at City Hall and the Pettis County Courthouse will be closed Monday, it was reported today. The occasion is the commemoration of Lincoln's Birthday, which occurs on Sunday. Offices will resume their usual hours on Tuesday.

Kiwanians Back Local Youth Project

Eighty-two Sedalia Kiwanians have subscribed to support with money and personal labor the club's project for community boys' and girls' work in 1967.

Bill Dugan and Gene Landon, the wheel horses for putting on the annual Pancake Day on Saturday to raise funds, announced that all members had been assigned to three work shifts at Sacred Heart Cafeteria from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday. The men will start early and work late although serving of the pancakes will occur between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. One work detail was on the job for two hours Thursday night setting up tables and eating tools.

Kiwanians in action will cover the following jobs: kitchen detail, battermixers, ticket takers, cashiers, cooks, waiters, dishwashers and coffeemakers. Just a look at them will be worth half of the price of the pancakes, according to Landon.

Dugan says that people who do not have tickets may get them at the door. He expects this year's pancake day to be a pace setter.

New President For Workshop Named At Meet

At a board meeting of the Pettis-Sedalia Sheltered Workshop held Thursday, Feb. 9 at the Bothwell Hotel, John B. Ellison was elected president of the board for the coming year. He succeeds Dr. David H. Robinson.

Other officers were re-elected and included James H. Durley, vice-president; Mrs. Zelda Connor, secretary; and Mrs. Lucille White, treasurer.

The Sheltered Workshop works closely with the staff personnel of the Children's Therapy Center, under the direction of Roger Garlich, director. The local Sheltered Workshop is one of the first such handicap centers established in the state of Missouri. The workshop is currently engaged in a number of contracts for local firms and increased its income on such contracts from approximately $2,200 in 1965 to over $6,000 in 1966. Handicapped youngsters are reimbursed for their work in handling these contracts.

Would Agree To Banning Nuclear Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said today his government would agree to bar nuclear explosions from German soil through signing of a non-proliferation treaty.

It was the first time West Germany had renounced nuclear explosions even for peaceful purposes, although the government long has pledged not to manufacture atomic weapons.

Brandt was asked if he would adhere to any treaty barring nuclear explosions in the federal republic. "Yes," he replied.

Earlier, Brandt said U.S. troop strength in Europe could be reduced without danger to security in Europe under given conditions.

"The American presence in Europe is not an end in itself," he adds. "It serves our common security."

"The presence of American troops is in the interest of Germany as well as in the interest of the other states of Europe and of the United States itself."

Despite Cynics

News, Not Opinions, Has Influence In New Society

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, said today "a new sophisticated society" which he described as cynical and critical, can be influenced only by a flow of factual news, not opinion.

"This society doubts the credibility of almost everything and is immune to humbuggability," Gallagher said. "Facts presented logically have a ring of authenticity that over a period of time convince the vast majority of the reading and listening public regardless of their cynicism."

Gallagher's address was prepared for a convocation at the University of Kansas where he received the 1967 William Allen White Foundation Award for Journalistic Merit.

The war in Vietnam, Gallagher said, "has probably been the greatest contributor to the cynicism in this country." He cited numerous official statements which he said had been "proven wrong by events."

"In this continuing furor over the credibility gap, the reader associates the untrue statement of a public figure with the paper that publishes it," he said.

Today's audience for the journalist, Gallagher said, is young, with 51 per cent of the population under 29 years old and more than 10 million college graduates.

Big Supply Buildups During Lunar Truce

Enemy Takes Advantage Of North Bombing Lull

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported a massive supply buildup in North Vietnam during the first three days of the lunar new year truce and the suspension of American bombing raids.

U.S. officials said the four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the South Vietnamese government remains in effect. But they would not rule out the possibility that air strikes against North Vietnam might be ordered before the truce ends Sunday should the Communist buildup reach levels considered "intolerable" by the U.S. Command.

May Study Blackwater, Lamine Basin

To Obtain Full, Constructive Use Of Water, Land

A request has been made to the Department of Agriculture by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes for an agricultural study of the following counties: Lafayette, Johnson, Saline, Pettis, Cooper and Moniteau, all in what is known as the Blackwater-Lamine Basin.

The study is to further the full and constructive uses of water and related land in the basin.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, the Governor suggested the study under the provisions of Section 6, Public Law 566, with the Missouri Water Resources Board as the sponsor of the study.

The Blackwater-Lamine basin is located in the above counties and considered to contain some of the best agricultural land in the State.

The Department study will involve the soil conservation Service, Forest Service and Economic Research Service as well as State Resources and Research Agencies. Its purpose would be to identify the water and related land resources problem associated with the agricultural economy of the area as to recovery and corrective actions. Municipal and Industrial water supply needs, flood prevention, drainage and recreational potential would be studied.

A similar study is underway in the Osage River Basin and one has been completed for the Meramec Basin.

Colombian Death Toll Rises To 75

Most Disastrous Quake In Country Recorded Thursday

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The toll from Colombia's most disastrous earthquake rose to 75 dead today with more than 300 injured, the Interior Ministry reported.

Hardest hit was Huila State in the south, epicenter of Thursday's quake. The ministry said 53 persons were killed there, including 24 at Neiva, the capital. Another 13 were killed in Bogota and 9 elsewhere.

Most buildings at Neiva were severely damaged, including the Plaza Hotel, where several guests were killed when part of the building collapsed, the ministry reported.

The state Capitol, court and other municipal and private buildings in Neiva had to be evacuated. Unofficial estimates were that 90 per cent of the homes there were damaged to some degree, leaving many residents homeless.

A vaccination campaign was ordered in Huila and Tolima states to prevent epidemics. Sewers and water systems were damaged in both states.

Rescue workers were digging through debris there and in other areas, including Bogota, looking for any additional victims.

As reports of destruction reached the capital, the government declared a state of emergency and ordered reconstruction of damaged buildings worth millions of dollars.

Red Cross and army emergency teams were organized. Interior Minister Misael Pastrana Borreo was sent to direct relief efforts in Huila.

The interior ministry said two shocks Thursday morning were the worst ever felt in Colombia. One measured seven to eight on a 12-point scale. A third tremor followed six hours later.

Incidents of mass terror and individual bravery were reported in Bogota, where 13 Colombians were killed, including two children.

Warn Drivers Of Speeding In School Areas

Sedalia Chief of Police William E. Miller cautioned drivers in the city Friday against violations of the 15 mile-an-hour speed limits in effect at school zones from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Miller said his department had been receiving numerous complaints about drivers "burning up" the streets in the school zones. He said radar checks would be set up in order to curb the violations.

He added that many drivers may believe no children will be on the street while school is in session. However, he said, in many cases children do leave the school buildings for various reasons.

"We've had several close calls reported to us," Miller said, "and we will use radar to stop the violations if that's what it takes."

Four Youngsters Die In Fire In Slater

SLATER, Mo. (AP) — Four children died in a fire at their home Thursday. It apparently started as an explosion in an old pot-bellied, wood-burning stove.

The victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Pettigrew. They were identified as Charles, 3, Carolina, 2, Lisa, 1, and Vonnelle, 4 months.

Walter Wade, a deputy sheriff, said the children were alone in the house. He said Mrs. Pettigrew was at a neighbor's house and saw smoke coming from her own three-room frame home.

She ran home. When she opened the door, she was driven back by heat and fumes, Wade said. Within minutes, the house was engulfed by flames.

Chief Robert Page said the house was aflame when the Slater Volunteer Fire Department arrived.

Church News

The First Baptist Church will observe Laymen's Day Sunday. The church choir, singing "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," will precede the music "So Send I You," by the Ladies Trio. Mrs. Jim Gwinn, Mrs. Jim Reed, and Mrs. Fred Biggs. The Rev. Jess Wallace, pastor, will preach on the subject, "What Makes A Church Great."

"The Psychology of a Leader," will be the continuing theme of the class discussion at the 6:00 p. m. hour of training. There's a group meeting for every age at this period.

During the 7:00 p. m. worship hour the men's chorus will use an arrangement of "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning." Gary Schwartz, Ed Kirby, Winston Ream, and A. B. Case will sing "At Calvary."

Various subjects will be discussed by leaders of the Baptist Men's organization. Fred Biggs, president, has asked the vice president, Lee Deason, to master the ceremonies. A. B. Case will speak on "My Church Involved in Missions." Wray Schroeder, speaking in Magnifying My Church in My Community, will be followed by Charles Smethers, whose subject will be "Working Through My Church as A Personal Soul-Winner." Clark Baker, Associate Superintendent of the Sunday School, concludes the messages using this title, "Supporting My Church Through My Tithes and Offerings."

Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. the Youth of the church will join in their annual Valentine Banquet under the theme "A Southern Plantation." Dr. Jerry Horner, professor of Bible at Southwestern Baptist College, Bolivar, will speak on "Thoughts in a Garden."

'Restless Ones' At Fox Theatre

"The Restless Ones," an outstanding motion picture produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Sedalia at the Fox Theatre, Feb. 22, 23, and 24 at 1:30, 6:00 and 8:30 p. m. daily.

With accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis, according to those who have seen it. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to social problems. The picture offers a challenge and inspiration to young and old alike with an appeal to churchgoers and non-churchgoers.

Screen writer James Collier has skillfully brought into focus the contemporary plight of both teen-agers and parents. It is a sensitive script, produced by World Wide Pictures under the direction of Dick Ross.

The showing of "The Restless Ones" is promoted by a local steering committee composed of local business men, laymen, and ministers, who are interested in youth and who desire to assist parents in dealing wisely with their own young people.

OUR GREATEST MOMENT

Many times we wonder just when the happiest time of our life will be. As we read and study our Bible we finally realize that when we accept Jesus Christ as our savior, and then experience a new birth as we arise from the watery grave of Baptism, then — and only then — do we really know and experience the greatest time of our life here on this earth.

If you are not following the New Testament pattern of life, we would love to have you come and worship with us.

(Sedalia)

Max Zinc, 86, Sedalia, died at 2:55 p.m. Thursday at Bothwell Hospital.

Mr. Zinc was born, Jan. 16, 1881, in Acken, Germany. He had been a cabinet-maker for Consolidated Edison in New York City, moving to Sedalia two years ago to live with his son, Robert M. Zinc, 1520 West 20th.

Other survivors include two sons, Henry and Albert Zinc and one sister, Mrs. Marie Dirheimer, all of New York City; ten grandchildren.

The body will be sent to New York for funeral services and burial.

Local arrangements were made by the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Mrs. Leota Larimore
(Lincoln)

Mrs. Leota Larimore, 86, Lincoln, died Thursday at her home.

She was born at Climax Springs, Aug. 20, 1880, daughter of Alfred and Tennessee Kindie. She was married to George Larimore, March 12, 1913, at Hermitage, Mo. He preceded her in death in 1945.

She lived most of her married life in the Climax Springs area and moved to Lincoln in October, 1966.

Mrs. Larimore was also preceded in death by one son, Jim K. Larimore, in 1960; three brothers and one sister.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Effie Mae Roark and Mrs. Lela Johnston, both of Lincoln; one brother, Homer Kindie, Sedalia; two sisters, Mrs. Emmet Thomas, Ottumwa; Mrs. Lillie Garrison, Edwards; seven grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Climax Springs Baptist church with the Rev. E. O. Farier and the Rev. Johnny Miller, officiating.

Relatives will serve as pallbearers.

Burial will be in the Climax Springs Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday, at the Fred Davis and Sons Funeral Home, Lincoln.

Mrs. Lyman Cornwall
(Holland, N. Y.)

Word has been received by James Cornwall, Route 1, of the death of his mother, Mrs. Lyman Cornwall, Holland, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall are enroute to Holland. Funeral services will be held at the Buckman Funeral Home there Saturday.

Kiwanians
Hear Scout
Camp Story

A descriptive story of the Boy Scout camp, 17 miles south of Versailles on the Osage arm of the Lake of the Ozarks, was given verbally and with colored slides by Robert Mills, Jefferson City, Scout Executive of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, speaking before Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker, who was introduced by William O. Hiatt, past president of the Council, commented on establishment of the new camp and continuing activity to improve it. Projection to improve the vast acreage is on a time schedule approximating 15 years.

The program was in observance of annual Boy Scout Week. Lenten Meditation was given by the Rev. Charles Clark, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church. Invocation was by Henry Keeler. Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Mrs. Lillian Maynard accompanist. Birthday greetings in song were extended to Robert McDonald, W. A. Smith, Joe Allen and David Eisenstein.

Bill Dugan and Gene Landon reported on preparations for Pancake Day at Sacred Heart Cafeteria Saturday.

President James Giokaris called attention to the fact that 23 schools will participate in the Smith-Cotton 10th Annual Forensics tournament February 17-18 which is sponsored by the club's Boys and Girls Work committee. Kiwanians participate in financing and judging the tournament.

Louis R. Hughes, Jr., introduced Prof. Harding Veigel, Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, who spoke on behalf of establishing workshop seminars on Community Law Enforcement problems in Sedalia and other Central Missouri communities. Among other objectives, the workshop would encourage mobilization of the resources of the community to actively support and aid law enforcement officers in the performance of their duties.

Kiwanian William F. Swain, Boonville, was a guest.

Accidents

A two-car accident occurred at Tenth and Montgomery at 4:47 p.m. Thursday. There were no apparent injuries.

Involved were a 1957 Chevrolet, driven south on Montgomery by Buddy D. Allen, 35, 1112 East 13th, and a 1955 Mercury, driven east on Tenth by Forrest F. Ritchey, 65, 129 East Walnut. Ritchey, was issued a police summons for careless and imprudent driving.

Damage occurred to the left front of the Mercury, and to the front of the Chevrolet. They were towed from the scene of the accident by Shoemakers. Damage also resulted to the front porch of George N. Hartman, 1001 South Montgomery, when the Ritchey car traveled some 73 feet from the point of impact and was in collision with the front porch of Hartman's home.

There was no report on the amount of damage done to the front porch.

A two-car accident occurred in the 1000 block of West Broadway at 11:56 a.m. Thursday.

Involved were a 1967 Dodge, driven west on Broadway by Mary Alys Robinson, 42, 1400 West Broadway and a 1961 Corvair, driven west on Broadway by a juvenile-aged youth.

The juvenile was issued a police summons for careless and imprudent driving.

Damage occurred to the left rear of the Dodge, and to the right front of the Corvair.

Says Police Must Live
'Live With Ruling'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The policeman must learn to live with the U. S. Supreme Court rulings on handling persons accused of crimes, Norman Anderson, Missouri attorney general, said Thursday night.

Speaking at a dinner meeting of the Heart of America Law Enforcement Association, the attorney general said many officers felt they were put out of business by the rulings.

"That is not the proper attitude," Anderson said. "It is wrong to do much complaining. If we think the decision wrong we have to work to get it changed."

Basically, Anderson said, a recent court decision means the accused must be advised of his constitutional rights, informed that what he said could be used against him, and informed he had a right to an attorney.

Not Enough Damage

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The White House has advised Gov. Warren E. Hearnes there was not enough damage to public facilities to justify designating St. Louis and Orrick, Mo., as major disaster areas as a result of the Jan. 24 tornadoes.

Farris Bryant, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said he could not make such a recommendation to the President.

Brown, exposure of person, pleaded innocent and the case was dismissed.

Catholic Educators Make Dramatic Teaching Change

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A dramatic new approach to Christian teaching, focused on the personal experiencing of faith rather than theoretical definitions of it, was unveiled this week by Roman Catholic educators.

It shuns the old question-and-answer formulas of past catechisms.

It points up yes-saying, rather than no-saying.

It aims to develop the "sense of God" in youngsters, rather than to present them with abstract explanations about Him, to bring them "into relationship" with Divine goodness, rather than to offer abstruse quotations.

It rejects detailed, materialistic images of Heaven and hell, and warns against emphasis on sin in classes for young children. "Fear is a bad educator," it says. It encourages free forms of prayer, rather than set recitations.

Prepared by a team of 30 theologians, psychologists, sociologists, and teachers, the program materials are issued by the Paulist Press, and include recordings, visual aids and guidebooks for parents, teachers and pupils.

Described as the "catechism of the '70s," and as a "10-year leap forward" in church educational methods, the program has been pilot-tested in schools in one-third of the 150 Catholic dioceses across the country.

It was termed the first wide-scale undertaking that seeks to introduce into the classroom the broadened Church concepts emanating from the Second Vatican Council.

Initial materials were for beginners, first and second graders. In the plan, parents are enlisted closely and extensively into the teaching process.

As an example of the changes, the former formula "God is everywhere," is replaced by another, "God is always with me," pointing up God in a vital personal relationship, rather than as an external dissociated entity.

Also, as a guidebook explains, the intent is to get away from the impression that God is lurking around apart from people to watch them, as has often been expressed in such phrases as "Watch out! God sees you!"

Texts for children in the program are more like simple, brightly illustrated litanies of prayer and praise, in contrast with the didactic manuals of the past.

A page, showing children at work, says: "God our Father wants us to help Him make the world more beautiful. He wants us to make people happy."

A handbook for parents, priests and teachers offers key advice on the revamped approach.

Some of the tips include: "Prayer is an intimate conversation with God."

Notice we say 'with.' There is an exchange, a dialogue, and not merely a one-sided conversation, monologue or a recitation of formulas.

"To pray is not only to speak to God, but first of all to listen and respond...our prayer should always go through Jesus...Jesus is mediator...we must help the child grow into a personal and free prayer..."

"Avoid saying to a child 'You have sinned!'...only God penetrates consciences sufficiently to judge each one's responsibility..."

"It is very harmful to threaten children at this sensitive age with the devil and with hell. Having heard this overstressed in their own childhood, some adults find it hard to accept the tragic reality of Satan's action and the extreme consequence of the freedom of man who can say 'no' to God forever."

"We wish to awaken faith, not fear."

Sin should not be presented "as a 'stain,' a 'spot' that Jesus came to erase. To sin is to say 'no' to God who loves us so much."

"The best way to speak to the child about Heaven is to develop in him an awareness of God as very great and good. Little by little the child will discover that God is the 'whole' of life."

"Only one thing matters: To say 'yes' to God. All life is an ascent 'to the Father,' and Jesus leads us."

"In speaking of Heaven, avoid using images that are too 'material,' such as beautiful golden harps, pretty cherubs and mountains of ice cream."

If the subject of hell comes up, the occasion could be profitably used to correct the idea that most people have of hell. Many think of hell as a revenge and punishment of an angry God..."

Actually, it is understood as a part of reality "which begins here and now remains beyond death: The communion with God entered into through faith remains, as does the rejection of communion, that is, spiritual aloneness."

Avoid giving either "the impression that Mary is a double for Christ" or that "everything said of Mary or to Mary is improperly taken away from Christ, the sole mediator."

By giving an exaggerated place "to Mary, the Lord's role becomes hidden or reduced. Mary would then be unconsciously considered as a demi-god..."

Extension Club Notes

Houstonia Homemakers Extension Club met Jan. 19, at the home of Mrs. Everett Blackburn.

The program was on "Citizenship" given by Mrs. H. H. Kreisel with a quiz on being a citizen of the United States of America.

Mrs. Carl Kreisel gave a lesson on clothing.

The new president, Mrs. Wilbert Fischer, opened the meeting by reading the club collect. There were ten members present, and one guest, Mrs. James Blackburn.

The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bernard Dotson, on Feb. 16. The program will be on "Civil Defense."

High Point Homemakers' Club met Feb. 1, with Mrs. E. G. Stumpf, 611 West 32nd, with Mrs. Ted Heinze presenting the program on "Civil Defense and Safety." Emphasis was on safety and especially safe driving. She stressed that all should try to be defensive drivers. There were lots of interesting points for discussion when members told of their pet peeves in the driving of other motorists.

Roll call was answered with "What I do when I do what I please."

The devotionat was given by Mrs. John Zulauf.

A contributive dinner was served at noon.

Foreigners Vacation

BELGRADE (AP) — The government announced 3.5 million foreigners vacationed in Yugoslavia last year, a 30 per cent increase over 1965, and spent about $150 million. Most came from West Germany (658,000), followed by Austrians (482,000) and Italians (424,000). American visitors numbered 110,000.

FINDING THE WAY

Think and Act Anew

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A. A. Milne once told of a worried mother who wanted to protect her son as he started off for the war. She purchased a coat of mesh which she wanted him to wear under his shirt. It was a poignant story and anyone with a young man or young woman in the household understands the plight. Each generation seems to match the young against fearful odds and, in a clumsy way, each generation tries to arm them with some ancient outer garment.

It was that way with the dinosaurs. They knew about coats of mail and they tried to match them against evolutionary changes. Now they are remembered in museums where their bones are strung together.

Ecumenical Version Of Lords Prayer

DETROIT (AP) — The French, who seldom agree on anything, have come up with an ecumenical version of the Lord's Prayer, a Detroit newspaper says.

American religious leaders, still at odds over the use of English in liturgical texts, have not yet agreed on a single version of the ancient entreaty.

Hiley H. Ward, religion writer for the Detroit Free Press, said he had the French version translated into English by the Rev. George Tavard of Mount Mercy College in Pittsburgh, a noted American ecumenist.

The translation is included in Ward's book, "Documents of Dialogue," published by Prentice-Hall.

Ward said the French version, "hammered out by Catholics, Protestants and Orthodox," has been sanctioned by Joseph Cardinal Lefebvre, chairman of the French Catholic Bishops Conference, the heads of France's two Reformed churches, heads of two Lutheran denominations in France and the four leading Orthodox prelates in France.

As translated by Father Tavard:

"Our Father, who are in heaven, may your name be sanctified, may your kingdom come, may your will be done on earth as in heaven."

"Today give us our bread for this day. Forgive us our offenses, as we also forgive those who have offended us. And do not test us through temptation, but deliver us from evil."

Ward said he believes this to be the first appearance in the English language of an ecumenical version of the Lord's Prayer.

Ward said differences over the wording of the Lord's Prayer vary in most American religions.

"Some Protestants pray, 'Forgive us our debts,' others, 'Forgive us our trespasses,'" said Ward.

"The King James Version (1611) says 'in earth,' but the Revised Standard Version (1946) says 'on earth,' as did the English Revised Version (1881) and the American Standard (1901)," he said.

"Some say 'which is in heaven,' others, 'who are in heaven,' and looking at the Greek you find in the literal syntax that the prayer says 'who is or art in heavens' (plural)."

February Is Only Month That Really Needs Friend

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If there is any month in the year that needs a friend, it is February.

Every other month you find it pretty easy to say something nice about.

For example:

March brings the spring, and April confirms it.

In merry May the flowers begin to bloom, and in June so do the brides—and school lets out.

Then in happy sequence come July and August, the season of sunbaked vacations, outdoor barbecues and watermelon and corn on the cob.

In September the laboring man gets his annual holiday, and home life returns to normal as grateful parents fling their yawling children back into classrooms. In October the horn of the hunter sounds from the hilltop, and a tawny full moon shines down on the land's harvest.

November is gladdened by Thanksgiving and December by Santa Claus and the Christmas spirit of good will.

January is the month of hope because it marks the start of a new year and fresh opportunities.

But then what happens? Man-kind has a head-on collision with February. And what are its rewards?

Let us consider:

It is too late for football and too early for baseball.

Iceicles drip from old men's noses.

Pretty girls wear such heavy clothing you can't tell whether they are built like a gazelle or a circus tent. They walk like waddling walruses.

Few new good shows open on Broadway. If anyone has an idea for an interesting television program, he decides to hold it until next autumn.

If you sneeze on a crowded bus, you immediately make 40 lifelong enemies. On the other hand, if you don't come down with a heavy cold everyone else at the office thinks you are an exhibitionist.

The deserving poor plod through freezing slush, while the lucky rich are getting tans in the Bahamas, Jamaica or Florida.

No company gives a bonus, few or no bosses give pay hikes.

All Congress seems to talk about is the federal deficit, and the possibility of raising taxes.

If you need an operation there is no room for you in the hospitals, because all the beds are full of ski bums with broken bones.

Repartee reaches its lowest level of the year. During frigid weather the half-wits ask, "Cold enough for you?" and the nit-wits ask, "Warm enough for you?"

Ask a neighborhood teenager to help you shovel off your clogged driveway, and he demands enough money to put him through college.

Everybody is more cranky, cross and disagreeable. Yep, the blood flows tiredly and the spirit of man is stuck in a snow-drift.

What, after all, is good about February? Why do we even keep it in the calendar?

Well, it is a poor month to start a new year in. And it usually lasts only 28 days.

No other month can make both these claims.

A Man Who Made Friends

As time moves on scarcely a person escapes emotional reaction by the death of relative or friend.

The older a person becomes the more he encounters this. One might conclude then that an older person would be less affected, more insensitive and callous to what the young consider a frightful thing — death.

Even though there is that tendency to be indifferent as the years add up no one ever becomes so casehardened that the loss of someone does not cause him sorrow or weeping even though it be a reaction in silence.

Recently, among friends, there has occurred a series of deaths about which our feelings, like others, have responded in varying degrees depending on the intimacy of social or business relationships with them.

Therefore, we would like to inscribe our respectful opinion of another friend in a manner deserved by him for his strength of character, for his friendliness and for his contributions to the welfare of others.

Joe Dear, treasurer of the Sedalia Democrat Co., was also president of Dear Publication and Radio, Inc., with which the Sedalia newspapers are affiliated. He assumed the corporate positions seven years ago upon the death of his father, J. Albert Dear. Joe was then 37. Both were dedicated newspapermen. So were their forebears; so are their survivors.

Joe's short span of seven years of executive control was burdensome. He never flinched from the business aggravations attendant thereto; neither did he let these warp his genial temperament. Joe was fair with his business associates. He was never officious; he was always friendly.

His last parting remarks to us strengthened our confirmed judgment that Joe was a good man, resolute in service to his profession and tolerant of others' opinions.

Posterity's Loss

The real tragedy of the Italian floods is not that so much of the Western world's heritage of art and literary treasures was swept away or reduced to soggy, useless pulp. It is that so little of it, particularly the written kind, had been recorded on film before it was irretrievably lost.

A fresco must eventually peel, a painting fade, a manuscript crumble. True, with elaborate precautions, men can preserve them, even for many centuries. Yet this is like sealing culture under glass; it represents more a curiosity value than anything else to living men.

The full toll of lost books and manuscripts will never be known. The devastated libraries constituted a vast mine that could have kept generations of scholars busy. Now much of that mine will never be tapped.

Salvage is the foremost concern now, and thousands in this country and other countries are contributing money toward that task. But it is to be hoped that once it is completed, a thorough microfilming project will be undertaken to insure that no future calamity can take the toll that this one did.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Bobby's Peace Signal a Belated One

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The unanimous denials from all sides didn't give the true story of the mysterious Vietnam peace signal that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., was reported to have picked up last week in Paris.

It is significant that, before the senator got around to denying he had received any peace message, his office had told reporters he would have no comments on it until he had conferred with Washington authorities. Not until he had talked it over with President Johnson did Kennedy deny that he had brought home a message from Hanoi.

Actually, the peace hint was picked up by government radio monitors before any foreign sources could deliver it. It came in the form of an interview given by North Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh to Communist newsman Wilfred Burchett.

The interview emphasized that suspension of the bombing of North Vietnam could lead to truce talks.

A full report of the interview was placed on the President's desk on January 26. He ordered an immediate and thorough check as to whether this meant Hanoi had relaxed its conditions for starting negotiations.

The Canadians, Indians and Poles who sit on the International Control Commission were sounded out. Other governments with contacts in Hanoi were queried. The Vatican was asked whether it had received any new peace offers.

None of the responses contained the slightest indication that the Hanoi government had changed its terms. On January 31 a message from Paris advised that Mai Van Bo, North Vietnam's chief representative in the French capital, had promised that a halt in the bombing "would be worth something."

Other foreign capitals had relayed substantially the same message — namely, that a bombing halt would be interpreted in Hanoi as a goodwill gesture. Since there was nothing new in this, U.S. policy makers concluded that North Vietnam was merely intensifying its campaign to stop the bombing without offering any concessions in return.

The peace signal had been carefully double-checked and double-analyzed before it was picked up belatedly by Sen. Kennedy in Paris. He was told by French officials on February 4 what they had already passed on to the American Embassy on January 31.

In any case, the State Department has become highly skeptical of French peace messages, which in the past have been capricious. Our policy makers had good reason to suspect that the French were merely playing games with us.

When Kennedy arrived at the White House with his belated word from Paris, President Johnson showed him the memos describing how carefully the peace message already had been checked out. Satisfied, the senator simply chose to deny to the press that he had ever received a message in the first place.

Note — Some top officials believe we should respond to Hanoi's peace hint without any advance guarantees. The chance of achieving peace, they argue, would be worth going more than halfway. Others contend that Hanoi merely wants a respite from the bombing in order to build up for a later offensive.

Dawson Dudgeon
Behind the sudden departure of the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt from South Africa was an outraged howl from Illinois's 80-year-old Bill Dawson, dean of Negro congressmen.

When he learned that the carrier was scheduled to stop at Cape Town and to abide by South Africa's race laws, Dawson phoned Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze in high dudgeon.

The secretary tried to explain the careful arrangements that had been made for the visit, but Dawson wouldn't listen. Nitze hurried up to Capitol Hill to elaborate on his explanation face to face. But the old Negro leader, a power in the House, insisted that the Navy should not tolerate discrimination against the carrier's 400 Negro crewmen.

Out-talked, Nitze radioed orders to the Roosevelt canceling all shore leaves and directing the carrier to leave Cape Town.

Medicare-Go-Round

Here are excerpts from the storm of protests received by this column over the administration of the new Medicare program:

E. George Siedle, Lancaster, Pa. — "Inter-County Hospitalization Plan Inc. in Pennsylvania has brazenly used Medicare to cold-bloodedly unload those who have reached 65 regardless of how long their membership or how good their health record. Only after top-side pressure protests did they consent to continue policies, and even then they imposed the new condition that no payment would be made if the subscriber received Medicare aid. Like many others I have long carried dual protection. . . . Many oldsters are now confronted with the bleak possibility of no longer being able through insurance to guard against having their meager resources wiped out and replaced by debt in the event of illness."

Charles H. Elliott, Florida — "My premium before Medicare was $15 a month for the two of us, now it is $11 for Blue Cross and Shield and $6 for Medicare, a total of $17 a month. . . . for practically no protection, only the $40 entrance fee. Seems like the senior citizens of Florida have been taken for a ride."

John Delandos, Arlington, Va. — "Before Medicare I was paying $18.89 a month for four persons. Now I am paying $19.89 for three persons and only 40 per cent coverage for me."

Peace Feelers

The World Today

Prospects for War's End Stand at Zero

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — No peace in sight.

After agitated weeks of diplomatic maneuvering, rumors, reports and hints that the North Vietnamese were putting out peace feelers, the prospects for an end to the war at this moment are zero.

Thus the climax and conclusion of a major effort by President Johnson to get it across to an often critical world that it's the North Vietnamese, not the United States, who show no signs of wanting to stop the fighting.

His critics, no doubt, will call it propaganda. He can say it's his earnest effort to tell this country and the world what the truth is. No matter. The result is the same.

In this effort Johnson and his secretary of state, Dean Rusk, worked in tandem.

The President took up almost an entire news conference on Feb. 2 to say — in brief — that there were no "serious indications that other side is ready to stop the war."

Since the news conference was televised, and Johnson spoke almost entirely about Vietnam, it was equivalent to a 25-minute major address on the war by the President to the nation.

Between Feb. 2 and Thursday people within the administration continued to talk of its efforts to find peace.

Then this week Johnson said he will send his ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg, on a fact-finding mission to 12 nations, including Vietnam, a journey which could be interpreted as a peace-finding mission.

On Wednesday the White House revealed Johnson — in reply to an appeal for peace by Pope Paul VI — said this country was seeking peace intensively but indicated this country would not cease military actions unless the North Vietnamese did likewise.

And Wednesday it was the White House which announced Rusk would have a televised news conference Thursday afternoon. An announcement of that kind is usually handled by the State Department.

Basically, all Rusk did was repeat what Johnson said on Feb. 2 at his news conference, although in doing so Rusk and the administration had another half hour on the nation's television screens to get their message across.

Rusk, referring to North Vietnamese hint that negotiations "could" be possible — if U.S. planes stopped bombing the North — rejected the suggestion, called it a Communist propaganda trick to get the United States to stop the bombing "while they continue their military action by invasion."

"You can't stop this war," Rusk said, "simply by stopping half of it." This echoed Johnson who, in his Feb. 2 statements, pledged this country to see the war through.

Rusk said all diplomatic efforts so far have failed to find out what North Vietnam would do in a return for a halt to the bombing. This summed up the administration's case.

Rusk added: While the United States has been trying "in every way known to us to invite and to engage" in peace talks, "unfortunately I cannot report to you today any tangible forward movement in that direction."

Thus, what has happened early in 1967 is a repetition of what happened early in 1966, and the prospects for peace then were bleak, as another year of war later showed.

On Jan. 7, 1966 the State Department announced 14 points for peace in Southeast Asia, assuring the North Vietnamese peace talks could begin without "any preconditions."

Thursday Rusk had the same 14 points handed to newsmen before they left.

The Blackwood convention is so valuable that many players believe you just can't bid successfully without using it.

In "Win at Bridge with Jacoby and Son" we point out that there are certain hands where the Blackwood convention is no help in slam bidding and we give two don'ts in connection with Blackwood. These are:

1. Don't use Blackwood when you hold a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit.
2. Don't use Blackwood unless you are prepared to bid a slam if your partner's response shows that your side holds three aces.

These two don'ts are both apparent in today's hand.

South has a big hand opposite his partner's opening bid. He shows it by jumping to two spades and is delighted to find that his partner can raise him. If he believes in the use of Blackwood and nothing else he can bid four no-trump. North will show one ace and South will have no idea about whether he can or can't make a slam. If he does bid six and West opens a diamond, as is most likely, the defense will take the first two tricks. If he bids only five and it turns out that North holds a singleton diamond South will learn that he has missed a slam.

South can save himself all this trouble if he leaves Blackwood entirely alone and bids four clubs over three spades. North will probably bid four hearts to show good hearts and South can jump to five spades to say to partner, "We have no losers in spades, hearts or clubs but I have two diamond losers. What can you do about that suit?"

North won't be able to do anything about diamonds and will pass.

The defense will take two diamond tricks and North and South will be happy.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Fast Diagnosis For Red Cells In Urine

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What would cause double vision? Could a blow above the temple do it?

A—The most common cause of double vision is a paralysis of one of the muscles that move the eyeball. A blow would not be likely to cause it unless it was heavy enough to cause a skull fracture.

Q—What causes macular degeneration? Does it result in blindness?

A—Macular degeneration is a destruction of the point of central vision in the retina. It may be caused by an injury to the eye or advanced age. Since there is no treatment for this condition the vision lost cannot be regained.

Q—My doctor found red blood cells in my urine. He has ruled out any disease of the kidneys or prostate. What other conditions could cause this?

A—The most likely other cause would be a disease of the bladder. Less likely possibilities include leukemia, purpura, scurvy and hemophilia. I would advise you to have a cystoscopic examination without delay because blood in the urine is never to be taken lightly.

Q—What would cause albumin in the urine? What diet should I follow to get rid of it?

A—The commonest diseases that might cause albumin in the urine are nephritis (Bright's disease), heart disease with a leaky valve, leukemia, purpura, scurvy and poisoning with mercury, lead and other chemicals. In adolescents and young adults albumin may appear in the urine after prolonged standing. For this condition, known as orthostatic albuminuria, no treatment is necessary. It is not a threat to health and disappears in time.

For the more serious conditions the treatment would depend on the cause. The protein intake should not be restricted unless the daily output of urine is scanty. Since scurvy is caused by a deficiency of vitamin C, adding citrus fruits to the diet will cure it. In some of the conditions listed it may be necessary to limit the intake of salt.

Q—What is Bunselluf given for? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Bunselluf is a combination of sulfur and volcay benzonite. It is used in prescriptions to increase the rate of absorption of other drugs from the digestive tract. Bunselluf lotion contains several added ingredients and is used in the treatment of acne. It may be irritating to very sensitive skin.

Kids of all ages get a kick out of television commercials, the same ones that probably bore the grownups after they have seen them once or twice, but the kids never tire of them.

One commercial on a bottled soft drink that, when it is opened, bubbles and foams forth out of the bottle like a snowstorm engulfing everybody in the picture.

When, during the recent snowstorm, snowflakes were coming down so hard and fast all you could see was snowflakes, a young Sedalia television addict looked out and commented to his mother: "Someone must have opened a bottle of Fresca." — H. L.

DEAR POLLY — This is the way I solved the dirty hands and dirty face problem. I soften a large bar of soap by leaving it in the water for awhile, press a dime down into the center, let the soap harden and then tell the children that the more they wash their faces and hands the quicker someone will get to the dime. This works like a charm and I now have the cleanest kids in town. Why doesn't someone market a soap like that? — MRS. B. T.

The second Rotarian told his insurance agent who was also a Rotarian and sitting across the table from him, and the insurance agent went two tables down to inform his claims service representative, who in turn contacted the father of the child who had been bitten.

And, so the story goes, all turned out well, because the dog was checked by another Rotarian, a veterinarian, who found that the dog was in excellent health except a mild case of pyorrhea.

Well, the Rotarian owner of the dog had better take care of that pyorrhea or the first thing he knows his dog won't have any teeth to bite anybody—not even Rotarians and their children. — H. L.

New Year Looks On A Torn China

TOKYO (AP) — The lunar new year, normally a time in China for greeting old friends and burnishing the family idols, came today to a Communist China torn by Mao Tse-tung's fight to conquer the foes of his revolutionary principles.

Provincial radio reports filtering out of the mainland told of new setbacks for the 73-year-old chairman of the Chinese Communist party in Hupei, Shantung and elsewhere.

With traditional new year observances banned by the Maoists, some human idols were being knocked down as well. Wall posters in Peking reported that Marshal Chu Teh, 81, co-founder with Mao of the Red army, would be hailed before a kangaroo court in the capital Friday to be humiliated for his "anti-Maoist" sins.

Japanese correspondents in Peking speculated that this would be a preliminary to Chu's removal from the chairmanship of the National People's Congress, normally one of China's more powerful posts.

Another near-legendary figure in Chinese communism, Marshal Ho Lung, was accused Wednesday of inspiring resistance to Mao in Szechuan Province.

For the first time in memory, China's millions of workers and peasants were deprived by official order of their week-long new year holiday. By contrast, the Nationalist island of Formosa, ruled by Mao's old foe, Chiang Kai-shek, was a place of merrymaking and exploding firecrackers.

From Shantung Province, a Tsingtao Radio broadcast said a delegation of Maoist revolutionaries who had just taken over that port city had left for provincial capital, Tsinan, on Jan. 31, to overthrow the provincial party committee headed by Tan Chi-lung.

However, a Peking People's Daily article distributed today — 10 days later — made no reference to the delegation and continued to attack the provincial committee. This suggested the delegation may have been blocked or captured.

An article Jan. 27 in the Hupei Daily which became available today called on Maoists to "utterly destroy the black Hupei provincial party committee and the black Wuhan municipal party committee, and seize all their powers."

Wuhan Radio reported that party, political and financial power had been seized in the Hupei city of Huangshi, a big power center, on Jan. 13.

Tasmanian Death Toll Is Climbing

HOBART, Tasmania (AP) — The death toll in Tasmania's disastrous bush and forest fires could reach at least 100, a senior police officer said today as flames roared out of the bush again to threaten more towns.

Police, firemen and 50 prisoners released from Hobart's jail were rushed to the orchard country at Huonville, 20 miles south of the island state's capital, where a northwest wind was pushing the fire toward houses.

Fifty more prisoners were trucked to the Bagdad area, 30 miles north of Hobart, where another blaze threatened to break from the bushland.

The confirmed toll so far was 49 dead, hundreds hurt and 3,500 homeless. The senior police officer said it might take a week to get an accurate count of the dead.

Eight towns were reported wiped out. Among 700 buildings destroyed were 650 houses. The others included hotels, schools, offices and factories.

"This has set the state back 10 years," Premier Eric Reece said.

"We're in a real mess. For God's sake, we need help desperately."

Tens of thousands of apples, the Huon Valley's main crop, were ruined in more than 10,000 acres burned over. The Derwent Valley, Tasmania's hop-growing center, had 500 persons without food or shelter.

Hundreds of head of livestock were killed. Thousands of workers and children were idle because factories and schools were razed. Smoke rose 10,000 feet over Hobart.

Miss Connie Sue McGinnis Is Bride of Ronald Henley

Miss Connie Sue McGinnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow McGinnis, Independence, and Mr. Ronald Wayne Henley, Sweet Springs, were united in marriage at five o'clock, Saturday afternoon, January 7.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ross E. Jaupt, pastor, before the candle lighted altar of the Immanuel Lutheran Church. Two nine-branch circular candelabra with burning tapers, enhanced with greenery and white satin bows, lighted the scene. Flower arrangements of white gladioli, rose carnations and lemon leaf greenery flanked the altar. White satin bows marked family pews.

Miss Lois Heilman, Concordia, played traditional wedding selections on the organ and accompanied Mrs. Kenneth Nierman, who sang, "God Bless This Day" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length creation of delicately tiered Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was styled with tapered sleeves and a Sabrina neckline with touches of seed pearl embroidery. Six tiers of lace formed the bouffant skirt which was swept back into a full length Cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a tier of seed pearls and crystal. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with long white streamers, which were attached to a white lace fan. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Carolyn Inlow, cousin of the bridegroom, was matron of

Call For Ouster Of Sukarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's Parliament was reported today to have called on Congress to oust President Sukarno and investigate his connections with the Communists.

Political observers expect Congress to accede to the request. The more than 300 members of Parliament make up half the Congress, the nation's highest legislative body.

Members said Parliament will present its resolution Saturday to Congress, which is to meet early next month. The resolution also asks Congress to name an acting president.

In a further blow to Sukarno's waning support, parliamentary members from the pro-Sukarno Nationalist party were said to have voted for the resolution after initial resistance.

Sukarno remained secluded in his Jakarta palace. The military leaders who blocked the attempted Communist coup in October 1965, and took over the government the following February have urged the president to resign before Congress meets to reduce the possibility of violent reaction from his supporters. But Sukarno has given no public inkling of his plans.

One government minister said that if Sukarno had decided two weeks ago to leave the country, "he might have gotten away with it. But now it is questionable whether the generals will let him go."

In East Java, Sukarno's birthplace where affection for him remains strong among millions of peasants, the Moslem Nahdlat Ulama party demanded that Sukarno be dismissed. The official news agency Antara said the party asked Congress to name army strongman Gen. Suharto as interim president until elections next year.

was a cymbidium orchid. The groom's step-mother chose a red velvet dress with red accessories and cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Caroline Memory and Mrs. Emeline Henly, grandmothers of the groom, and Mrs. William Bailey, grandmother of the bride, wore white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a dinner and reception were held at the VFW Hall in Concordia. Approximately 150 guests attended. A five tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses and small satin bows, accenting the corners, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the table. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Dale El-ling and Mrs. Leo Kroenke, both of Concordia. The guest book was attended by Mrs. Alford Harms.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose to wear a white knit suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Truman High School and Alex Angel Beauty College, Independence. She is employed with the Crain Beauty Shop, Sweet Springs. The groom is a graduate of R-7 High School, Sweet Springs. He is employed by the Missouri State Highway Department at Sweet Springs.

The couple is at home in Sweet Springs.

New Hiway Beauty Fight Shaping Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new battle is shaping up over highway beauty, a project of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson which could result in the dismantling of more than 1 million billboards along major highways.

What triggered the newest round of controversy were the regulations drafted by the Bureau of Public Roads and submitted to Congress last month. They list the size, spacing and other criteria of signs which can be located along the 261,000 miles of interstate and primary highways.

The regulations again made the bureau unpopular with the outdoor advertising industry, which sent its protests to Congress.

"We believe that the wholesale elimination of an entire industry is far beyond the intent of Congress," one telegram read. Another said, "The highway beautification bill is a luxury the taxpayers cannot support or afford."

Some conservationists said the bureau did a good job within the context of the 1965 law, which they consider weak. But at least one critic, Mrs. Kenneth Robb Brown of Des Moines, Iowa, contends the regulations represent a surrender to the industry.

"This is because 'the public has no lobby,'" she said.

Maris Signs His Contract With St. Louis Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The man who broke Babe Ruth's home run record and lived to regret it, Roger Maris, has signed his 1967 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Cardinal General Manager Stan Musial announced the former Yankee slugger had signed at a press conference at Busch Memorial Stadium Thursday. Maris reportedly signed for $72,000.

"We're very happy and pleased to have Rog here," Musial said. "He's a fine ball player," the former Cardinal batting champion added.

Maris came to the Cardinals this past winter in a deal that sent third baseman Charley Smith to the Yankees. Maris admitted he had been thinking about retiring when the deal was announced.

"Last year I wasn't sure I would continue in baseball," Maris said.

New York, the 32-year-old outfielder stated. "The announcement of the trade made me think even more," he added.

The native of Fargo, N.D., rapped 61 home runs in 1961. He became the center of a heated controversy over whether he really had broken Ruth's record of 60 home runs in a season.

Some contended that Maris hadn't broken the record because he had played a 162-game season. Others pointed out the longer season and the greater traveling balanced the other factors.

Maris never came close to repeating his home run production after 1961. Injuries kept him on the bench during the following years.

The Los Angeles Dodgers signed five players acquired in deals this winter.

They included Bob Bailey and Gene Michael, who came from Pittsburgh in the Maury Wills trade; Ron Hunt and Jim Hickman, acquired from the New York Mets for Tommy Davis, and relief pitcher Bob Lee, who came from the California Aggies.

Vice President Buzzie Bavasi said all received raises.

Pete Richert of the Washington Senators was given a raise that will bring him about $21,000. The 27-year-old left-hander had a 14-14 record last season and struck out 195 hitters, more than any Washington pitcher since Walter Johnson in 1915.

The Chicago White Sox signed first baseman Bob Spence of Santa Clara University, their No. 1 choice in the special free agent draft. He got an estimated $77,000 bonus.

Philadelphia signed its No. 2 selection in the draft, third baseman Ernie Aguirre, 18.

Bad News For MU

Buffaloes Awaiting Arrival Of Tigers

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 10 — (Special) — The brooding Buffaloes await Of Mizou's invasion into in Boulder Saturday night — and that's more bad news for the Tigers.

Colorado lost a televised basketball game to Oklahoma at Norman Saturday, 71-66, one which they seemingly had wrapped up until the Sooners rallied decisively down the stretch.

So the Buffs' mountain hide-out will be a bristling battleground for Missouri, a team that's picked up more than its share of wounds this winter. The Bengals are 3-15 for the year, and 1-6 in conference combat.

Colorado stands 11-7 overall, and is third in the league at 4-2. Tallest regular for Coach Sox Walseth is Bob Bauers, 6-5 senior — while guards Pat Frink and Lynn Baker are the chief threats. Frink hit spectacularly against O.U., 12 of 18 scrimmage shots, while Baker is a heavy, adroit playmaker.

Losing Booker Brown and Gene Jones on grades at the semester, Coach Bob Vanatta has adopted a "three-guard" alignment — using Ron Coleman, Rob Vanatta and Dave Bennett as starters. At center, 6-8 Rich Milling and 6-5 Gary Frazier have been sharing time — with flashy — but — erratic Tom Johnson the fifth regular.

Missouri had Oklahoma down 30-25, just before halftime here Tuesday but O.U. compensating for a 13-point night by Don Sidle, hit 18 of 19 second-half free throws in a 75-65 win.

Coleman now has 1,514 career points — third-best on M.U.'s all-time chart. The slick-shooting Jefferson Citian is 34 short of Bob Reiter's 1,188-point harvest, a four-year feat.

Mizzou returns home Tuesday night, meeting Kansas State.

Probable Lineups

Colorado — Mike Rebich (6-4), F.; Bob Bauers (6-5), F.; Kermit McMurray (6-7), C.; Pat Frink (6-4), G.; Lynn Baker (6-1), G.

Missouri — Ron Coleman (6-1), F.; Tom Johnson (6-4), F.; Rich Milling (6-8), C.; Rob Vanatta (6-3), G.; Dave Bennett (6-2), G.

Kansas State — Earl Seyfert (6-7), F.; Galen Frick (6-4), F.; Roy Smith (6-10), C.; Steve Honeycutt (6-1), G.; Dennis Berkholtz (6-1), G.

Tipoffs: MU — Colorado, 9:05 p.m. CST, Sat., Boulder, Colo.

MU — Kansas State, 7:35 p.m. CST, Tues., Columbia, Mo.

Scores Not Indicative Of Greens

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — You'd never know from the scores that the greens were playing hard and fast at the Arizona Country Club course as second round play began Friday in the $70,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

Jack Rule, Ken Still and Dean Refram, each with a five under par 66, led an assault of 56 pros who equaled or bettered par over the 6,489-yard, par-35-36-71 layout.

Refram, 30-year-old tour regular from Boca Raton, Fla., with bogies on the 7th and 15th holes, was the only one of the trio failing to make or better par on every hole during Thursday's first round.

"I just tried to throw the ball in high to keep it on the green," said Rule, who one-putted the final seven holes, racking up five birdies.

Rule, 28, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was playing "strictly an ordinary round" until his putter got hot on the 13th hole. He birdied the 13th, 14th, 15th, 17th and final holes, the longest putt a 15-footer.

Refram, who uses the pendulum style, managed to hit 17 greens, scoring birds on seven holes, including 30-footer on No. 11. He needed 32 putts to complete the round.

Still, whose 32nd birthday will be Sunday, the final day of the 71-hole tourney, had trouble with the greens during the pro-am warmup but had no complaints Thursday.

One stroke back of the leaders were tour regular Charlie Siffo of Los Angeles and Ernie Schnitter Jr., a club pro from Ogden, Utah, who plays in only two or three tourneys each year.

Last year's Phoenix Open champ, 27-year-old Dudley Wyson of McKinney, Tex., was grouped with 14 other golfers with even par 71s.

Pennington Is Named Top Big Eight Swimmer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Don Pennington of Kansas, who broke three Big Eight championship meet records last year and was an NCAA All America selection, was named today as the Big Eight's "most outstanding swimmer for 1966 by the conference coaches.

Pennington's three meet records were a 4:56.6 in the 500-yard freestyle; 4:28.2 in the 400 individual medley, and 17:21.5 in the 1,650 freestyle. His current goal is another triple crown.

"I'd say Don is probably three or four weeks ahead of his last year's times," said Kansas coach Dick Reamon. "He is one of the darndest competitors you ever saw. This and his desire make him the performer he is."

Also a nominee for the annual award was Iowa State's Jim Cotsworth, only other triple winner in last year's meet. He took the 200 individual medley in 2:02.4, the 200 butterfly in 1:59.5 and the 100 butterfly in 53.6—all record times.

Other nominees were Bon Duenkel of Kansas State, David Johnson of Oklahoma State, Terry Danko of Colorado, John Putnam of Missouri, Keefe Ludwig of Nebraska and Charles Schob-er of Oklahoma.

Time Runs Out Surely On Celtics

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Time is running out on the Boston Celtics in their chase of the Philadelphia 76ers in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division race.

The Celtics' hopes suffered another crippling blow on their home-away-from-home court Thursday night as the lowly Baltimore Bullets pulled a 128-124 upset at Rhode Island Auditorium.

The defeat, only the second in 15 games for the Celtics, dropped them seven full games behind the 76ers, who were idle along with the rest of the league.

The Bullets, buried in last place 37 games behind in the East, stormed to a 74-57 half-time lead and were in front 86-69 midway through the third period.

Then the Celtics launched one of their patented rallies. They finally caught Baltimore and moved ahead 113-110 in the fourth quarter before running into foul trouble.

Baltimore regained the lead 114-113 on two free throws each by Gush Johnson and John Bar-nhill, but Larry Siegfried hit on a jumper for Boston.

Ray Scott, an old Boston tormentor while with Detroit, followed with a pair of field goals to put the Bullets in front to stay.

Tumble Wind Still Best Colt Seen

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Tumble Wind remains the best colt at Santa Anita, but turf observers today still are debating his future in the big derby attractions this year, including Santa Anita's derby March 4.

Tumble Wind won the San Vicente Stakes Thursday pretty much as he and jockey Bill Shoemaker pleased. It was a seven-furlong sprint against five other youngsters. The margin of victory was 1 1/4 lengths.

The losers included Rising Market, who upset highly regarded Disciplinarian by a neck for second place.

It was Tumble Wind's first stakes triumph of the year and the longest distance he had ever traveled. But the Florida-bred colt from the Rock Springs Farm Stable still has to run a distance of ground and do it around two turns.

Shoemaker seemed a trifle restrained in his post-race comments.

"This is a real nice colt and he's improving. . . he was all out at the end. . . it's a little early to tell how he'll go around two turns."

Tumble Wind was beaten seven lengths by Disciplinarian in a previous takes. But it was run in sloppy going, the first time Tumble Wind had ever encountered an off track.

There also was a six-pound shift in weights, as Shoemaker noted, with Tumble Wind, 115 pounds, and Disciplinarian, 118, the reverse from the previous race.

Olympians Take Whirl At Their Own Records

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Four Olympians take a whirl at their own records tonight but the spotlight is on Jim Grelle and Richard Romo at the Will Rogers Indoor Games.

The two crack milers clash in a race billed as the highlight of the seventh track extravaganza in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Romo goes after the big upset in his home state after a glittering 4:04.7 at Seattle a week ago. He is the only Texan to dip below the four-minute mark.

Grelle, whose hobby is cracking the magical four-minute figure, beat Romo in their only meeting this year, at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Grelle tuned up last week with a 4:08.4 in winning at the San Diego Invitational.

A dark horse entry also has caused rumblings. He is John Baker, the former Western Athletic Conference champion from New Mexico University.

Other Olympian record holders here are Randy Matson, John Thomas and Ralph Boston.

Little League Fund Campaign

The Sedalia Little League kicks off its annual "Bread Drive" at 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 12, seeking funds to help finance this year's operation, Charles Rayl, chairman said today.

Taystee and Holsum Bread Companies will again sell the loaves of bread at cost and these loaves will be distributed from door to door by volunteers. The bread will not be sold but merely distributed. A request for contributions are made and can be of any sum.

Alcindor Is Center Of Bidding War

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A bonus bidding war for senior stars of collegiate basketball looms immediately ahead and in the future Lew Alcindor should be able to virtually write his own ticket.

Commissioner George Mikan of the newly formed American Basketball Association says he expects the league to be on a par with the established National Basketball Association in two years.

Mikan told a news conference Thursday. "We are prepared to bid on star college players, I would have to think it will be a bidding war."

Asked how he expected to reach par with the NBA so quickly, the former pro great answered, "There are players like Jim Walker and Lew Alcindor in the colleges, and don't forget Rick Barry of San Francisco's Warriors is only in his second year and he is a superstar already."

Asked if there would be an all out bidding battle for Alcindor, currently only a sophomore at UCLA, Mikan answered, "We know Alcindor would make any club which signed him."

"We know he would be an attraction in any city of either league. He would be a great start toward the ultimate goals we have set for ourselves."

Mikan said players of the NBA who are not under contractual obligations would be welcomed for negotiations by ABA clubs.

Winston-Salem Gets 21 First Place Ballots

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Once-beaten Winston-Salem N. C., captured 21 of 32 first place ballots by the NAIA rating board to stay the No. 1 team by a wide margin, but there was a major shakeup among the rest of the NAIA top 10.

Grambling, La., suffered its fourth defeat and dropped from second place to fifth. Howard Payne, Tex., jumped up to the No. 2 spot, Southwestern Oklahoma stayed in third and St. Benedict's of Kansas moved up to fourth.

Central Michigan remained sixth, and Westminster, Pa., stayed in seventh. Oklahoma Baptist, NAIA tourney champ last year, made its first appearance of the year in the top 10, moving up to No. 8. Unbeaten Salem, Mass., moved up a notch to ninth and Central Washington is 10th.

The second 10, in order, includes Lenoir Rhyne, N. C.; Tennessee Wesleyan; Morris Harvey, W. Va.; Ashland, Ohio; Troy State, Ala.; Norfolk State, Va.; California Western; Albany Ga.; State; Southern Colorado and Bryant, R. I.

Tigers To Hannibal For Contest

The Smith-Cotton varsity cagers travel to Hannibal Saturday for their eighth conference game and a rematch of their earlier contest. The game will begin at 8 p.m., preceded by a junior varsity tilt at 6.30.

In the Tigers' seven previous Central Missouri Conference games, they have won two and lost five. The Bengals hosted the Hannibal Pirates, Jan. 21, and lost a thriller 52-43. In that game, the Tigers caught the Pirates on a "hot" night as the visitors poured through a large lead in the first period, rarely missing a floor shot. By the time the Tigers had warmed up and Hannibal had cooled down, the Pirates had the margin that they carried throughout the remainder of the game. Hannibal has went on from that game to their present CMC record of 3-3.

"We hope to play better this time," promised Tiger Coach Paul Schwartz, "but we're going to have to hit over their zone to win. If we have a good shooting night . . . things could look up." Schwartz is planning to invade Pirate territory with a lineup comprised of three seniors, Larry Bell, Jim Whitney and Dick Postels, and two juniors, Tom Munson and George Williams.

The Tigers lost two close ones on the home court last weekend to the top two teams in the conference, and are anxious to try to improve their now losing CMC record. A win in Hannibal would put the Tigers at an even 10-10, and in fine position to even their CMC record against Mexico, Feb. 17. The last time the Bengals met Mexico, they easily outmanned the Bulldogs for their first CMC victory. The only other conference team left on the list is Rolla, who the Tigers also defeated the last time out.

Ottawa Sees Its 11th Win In Kan. League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ottawa notched its 11th victory in the Kansas Conference Thursday night, defeating McPherson 63-59 in a basketball game that was close most of the way.

Tony Verdi scored 28 points for Ottawa without a single attempt at a free throw. Hal Wright scored 17 points for McPherson in his team's last home game of the season.

McPherson held a 31-29 edge at the half but Ottawa took the lead at 56-55 with 4:23 left and stayed on top. Ottawa has lost only three games in league play. McPherson is 4-9 in the conference and 6-3 over-all.

Greg Henry scored 26 points to lead Graceland College to a 100-78 victory over Tarkio in an MCAU game. Tarkio led at the high 38-36 but Graceland outscored the Owls 64-40 in the second half. Top scorer for Tarkio was Skip Shear with 22 points. Both teams are 6-4 in league play.

In other games Thursday night Washburn of the CIC defeated Oral Roberts 77-69 and the Phillips Oilers beat South-west Baptist 97-78.

Games tonight: Regis of Colorado at Rockhurst, John J. Pershing of Nebraska at Park, Bethel at College of Emporia, Friends at Baker, Evangel at Bethel, Okla., and St. Mary of the Plains at College of Santa Fe.

Bateman May Be Late In His Arrival

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Houston Astros' catcher John Bateman will be a little late reporting for spring baseball training and Manager Grady Hatton is anxiously awaiting his arrival.

Hatton says he plans to fine the thick-waisted Bateman for each pound he weighs over 215.

The Astros launched spring training today but rains and cold weather could force them inside. Sixteen players are expected to be ready to go in the earliest training camp in the major leagues.

But Bateman won't be there. He's busy with his Leguaira team in the Venezuela Winter League playoffs and will not report until the conclusion of play.

When he does, he will step on the training room scales in full view of the squad.

"John will be fined for every pound over 21

No Conflicts Over Bidding Are Foreseen

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks doesn't foresee a bidding war with the new American Basketball Association, but it might give National Basketball Association players "a slightly better bargaining position—say about $2,000."

Guerin, former Kansas star Bill Bridges and St. Louis general manager Marty Blake were here for a press conference, tub-thumping for Saint Louis games here with Cincinnati Feb. 20 and Detroit Feb. 27 in Municipal Auditorium.

"Where are they going to get the players?" Blake asked. "With the NBA expansion to San Diego and Seattle next year and veterans retiring I look for 40 rookies to make NBA clubs." Guerin said he didn't think NBA stars "would want to jeopardize their security for a get-rich-quick offer that may not last two years."

Every Hope For Sure Recovery For Ernie

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The operation on boxer Ernie Terrell's injured eye went well and "there is every hope for a complete recovery," according to his physician. "The operation went well and the defect was corrected," said Dr. Harold G. Scheie, head of the surgical team that performed the 1½ hour operation Thursday at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

The eye was injured Monday night when Terrell lost to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay in Houston.

Has Evidence Coach Bet On His Own Team Through Bookmaker
MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Dist. Atty. William Cahn of Nassau County said today he has evidence that one of the leading college football coaches in the country bet on his own team with a bookmaker last year. Cahn made the statement at a postmidnight news conference at which he announced the smashing of a syndicate that he said operated at the rate of $100 million a year in handling sports bets "laid-off" by bookmakers in various parts of the nation.

Nine men were arrested on bookmaking charges in a roundup staged by 80 officers of three law agencies, Cahn said. Cahn said the fact that the football coach bet on his own team led the bookmakers to switch lay-off bets, with orders to go heavy on the coach's team. Regarding the coach, Cahn said: "I'm going to confer with the district attorney of the jurisdic-

St. John Owns Lead In Bowling

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Back-to-back games of 267 and 265 in the final qualifying round zoomed Jim St. John of San Jose, Calif., into the lead of the Professional Bowlers Association $50,000 Bowler Open Thursday night.

St. John, who won the $40,000 Western PBA Open in his home town in January, held a five-pin lead over 25-year-old Billy Hardwick of Louisville as the field was cut to 16 for the start of semifinal match game play Friday.

The Californian had a six-game count of 1,325 in the afternoon and crashed 1,393 in the night session. This gave him a 5,446 pin count for 24 games, an average of better than 226.

Other top names who made the match game finals included Wayne Zahn of Atlanta and Dick Weber of St. Louis, the No. 1 and 2 bowlers of the year in 1966, and perennial contenders Ray Bluth and Billy Welu of St. Louis.

Following Friday's 16 games of match play, the top five will clash Saturday afternoon in the nationally televised (ABC) finale. The winner gets $10,000 and the runnerup $5,000. The leaders: St. John, 5,446; Hardwick, 5,441; Chet Dziedzina, 5,423; Mike Durbin, Costa Mesa, Calif., 5,405; Tim Harahan, Encino, Calif., 5,378; Dave Soutar, Detroit, 5,356; Al Thompson, Cleveland, Ohio, 5,342; Bluth, 5,340; Zahn, 5,332; Welu, 5,329; Weber, 5,320; Walt Pych, Youngstown, Ohio, 5,308; Curt Schmidt, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 5,303; Don Glover, Bakersfield, Calif., 5,285; Tom Harnisch, Buffalo, N.Y., 5,272; Joe Joseph, Lansing, Mich., 5,258.

Monroe Almost Sure Of Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem has the small college basketball scoring championship all but wrapped up. Figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed today that Monroe has 42.6 points per game.

If he keeps up his scoring pace, Monroe will finish with the highest average in the history of college basketball except for Bevo Francis who averaged 46.5 points per game in 1953-54.

tion where the bet was made for whatever action he deems necessary. The bet by the bettor is not the crime, but this bet had repercussions throughout the country." Cahn did not identify the coach. But he said he is not in the New York City area.

FACTS

The Arabian oryx, the Tasmanian thylacine and about 1,000 other species of vertebrate animals are all close to extinction, says The World Almanac. Conservationists believe that, despite their efforts, dozens of species are lost for every one that is saved. The main threat to the animals comes from the constant incursions of man on their feeding and breeding grounds.

What is the meaning of "raster" as applied to your TV set? Most folks couldn't distinguish raster from rooster without first checking with the chicken house.

Actually, raster is the word identifying the pattern of horizontal lines you can see on your screen when there is no picture. The raster is there to provide a framework for the picture when it is plucked out of the air.

The back end of the picture tube shoots a beam of electrons at the screen which creates the raster. Where the electrons hit the screen there is a glow. The full picture materializes when the beam is swung, like a pencil, over the screen. This swinging is handled by two electromagnets around the neck of the tube. One magnet creates a horizontal sweep, the other moves the beam up and down in a vertical sweep.

If you buy one of our wonderful new sets . . . you're lucky. Luckily again, we don't need to worry about raster until it appears too often. Then it is time to call THE RADIO SHOP, 112 South Ohio, Sedalia, Phone TA 6-6370 . . . Sales of New and Used Sets . . . Stereo . . . Quality Service Repair.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Small radio receivers used to open garage doors sometimes cause harmful interference with airplane navigation. When the generating component and the antenna are not sufficiently separated, the receivers often send out signals. Nearby planes sometimes pick up the signals, mistake them for ground instructions and fly directly toward the garage door, says The World Almanac. The Federal Aviation Agency and the Federal Communication Commission are working to eliminate the interference.

Injuries In Roof Cave-In

Attending Lenten Mass; None Killed

BALTIMORE, Md. — (AP) — The roof caved in Thursday on a Roman Catholic church as an estimated 90 persons, most of them children, were attending an 8 a.m. Lenten Mass.

Spokesmen at four Baltimore hospitals said at least 34 persons were injured. No one was killed.

The church holds about 400 persons.

The roof of the St. Rose of Lima church sagged under heavy snow and collapsed with a roar as Father Francis O'Brien was saying Mass to 60 to 70 children and a dozen or so adults.

"I heard a noise and the roof just caved in," said Father O'Brien, who had blood on his face, apparently from helping carry out injured persons.

The injured persons were taken to four hospitals. The most seriously injured was listed as a 13-year-old boy with a fractured skull.

The children attend St. Rose of Lima School, located next door to the church. They were returning to school after being off two days because of an 11-inch snowfall that blanketed Baltimore Monday night.

The Rev. Francis X. Moran, a Catholic priest who was in the school, said, "A noise was heard and seconds later the whole roof came in at once."

"The principal (of the school) was able to get some of the children out immediately," he said. He identified the principal as Sister Mary Anne.

The school burned to the ground in 1925, and in 1950 a fire damaged the old church so badly that a new one had to be built.

George Feely Jr., 7, a pupil at the school, said he was about seven pews from the altar and heard something that "sounded like a door shutting."

"I saw something coming down," he said. "It was the ceiling."

Two-Week Old Strike Is Settled

The strike of the members of Local 1153, International Association of Machinist and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, came to a conclusion Thursday afternoon, one day short of two weeks. The strike was called on Friday, Jan. 26.

A hearing was held at the Holiday Inn Wednesday night between representatives of the union, the management of Steam-O-Matic, a division of the Rival Manufacturing Co., with Charles Harding, Federal mediator representing the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Kansas City.

The 215 members and employees of nearly 300 at Steam-O-Matic were present at a meeting held in the Labor Temple Thursday afternoon. Results of the conference were given the members present and a vote was then taken. Results of the election were in effect the majority voted to accept the recommendations of the mediator.

Mrs. Dorothy Embree, president of the Sedalia local, said all 215 members voted after hearing the recommendation of the Federal mediator. She said employees would be called back to work by the company.

Vernon Rodick, representative of Steam-O-Matic, said that lead personnel were being called to report for work Friday to get the plant in order for the employees and that other employees would return to their jobs on Monday.

Steam-O-Matic manufactures electric motors, plastic, broilers, meat slicers and related items. The local factory is a division of the Rival Manufacturing Co., but the strike was against the local division and not against Rival as a whole.

It was reported the recommendation was for 33-cents in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period.

AFL-CIO Reconstruction

UAW's Price To Continue In Federation Is Named

DETROIT (AP) — Reconstruction of the AFL-CIO was a price set Thursday by the United Auto Workers for its continuance in the federation.

It expressed "deep concern" the labor movement is vegetating under George Meany's leadership, and accused the 73-year-old AFL-CIO president of violating constitutional and convention mandates which fail to meet his "personal pleasure."

Declaring there is urgent need "for a vital, vibrant, dynamic, socially progressive labor movement," the UAW outlined an independent program it proposes to pursue outside the AFL-CIO structure.

Its 1.4 million members making up the largest union within the 13.5-million member federation, the UAW said its withdrawal threat is aimed at getting "the American labor movement off dead center."

It stressed what it said was a need for a massive organizing crusade, social action and help for struggling unions.

There was no immediate rejoinder from Meany or other AFL-CIO leaders, who had ignored, publicly at least, the UAW's withdrawal threat since its first was disclosed last week.

In Washington, an AFL-CIO spokesman said there would be no comment on the Auto Worker's demand for "internal reform" until the manifesto containing it is received there; that there would be no comment on press reports of it.

The 26-member UAW International Executive Board last week unanimously ordered the union's 59-year-old president, Walter P. Reuther, and its other three top officers to sever all connections with the ruling AFL-CIO Executive Council.

At the same time it directed

Firm Traditionalist

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, has declared himself a firm traditionalist about pubs. At a dinner held to raise funds the upkeep of homes for retired publicans, he said: "I hope very much that the pubs... will go on playing the same important and invaluable role in our social and national life." His audience responded by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

No Negotiation Signs

List 354 Men As Viet Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration now lists 354 men as possible prisoners of North Vietnam, government officials disclosed Thursday, with no signs that Hanoi is willing to negotiate an exchange or permit neutral inspection of prisoner facilities.

Sources emphasized in interviews that the United States remains in the dark on the health and well-being of the growing body of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam, despite recent reports from U.S. visitors to Hanoi.

As of Wednesday, officials said, the administration listed 113 men as known prisoners of war, 48 as suspected captives, and 193 as missing over North Vietnam. Nearly all the POWs are pilots. U.S. airmen are being shot down and placed in the government's "possible prisoner" category at a rate of 25 a month.

Officials, while making clear all POW reports are welcome, said the recent Hanoi visit by four women and three clergymen produced little substantial information about the status of U.S. POWs.

Those U.S. officials who are concerned with the administration's prisoner problems emphasized there is some evidence that American POWs are receiving adequate food and medical care, but beyond that little else is known about their treatment.

"Sure, he's not beaten up," one top official said of the American POW. "His fingernails aren't being torn out or anything like that — but where's he been for the past 12 months — that's what we want to know."

"What would be most useful and most important to us would be inspections," this official added. "We can't know until we get someone in there."

The Hanoi government has consistently refused to permit representatives of the International Red Cross to inspect American POW camps, although Red Cross officials have recently visited all of the South Vietnamese POW camps and jails.

Officials said the U.S. position right now is this: "We'll take anybody neutral who can give us accurate reports." Privately, many officials expressed belief that Hanoi will only negotiate the release of American fliers as part of an over-all settlement of the war.

This is why, officials said, the right to inspections becomes so important. Much of the official concern is over the emotional state of the prisoners.

Government sources said there is some evidence the Americans are being held in small groups in several locations. "We've gotten reports that seem to suggest they're being kept with a roommate," one top source said.

the agenda for an April 20-22 UAW convention be expanded to include a discussion of relationships with the parent AFL-CIO and a proposal that the Executive Board be authorized to take whatever action it deems necessary in this regard.

Action could come first, however, from the AFL-CIO Executive Council. It meets next week in Miami Beach.

MPSC Pays For Use Of Facilities

Missouri Public Service Co., informed Mayor Ralph Walker, Sedalia would be paid a total $143,144.86 during 1967 as "part of an agreement" through which the utilities firm is permitted to operate on and use city streets and alleys.

The figure mentioned in the letter represents five per cent of total sales in the city in both gas and electrical fields. The city was paid in the same manner during 1966.

For this year, according to Robert C. Storey, director of Municipal Relations for Missouri Public Service Co., his firm will pay Sedalia $82,965.32 from electric revenue, and $60,179.54 for gas revenue. The company said both figures represent five percent of total revenue in these areas, and listed the sales as totalling $1,659,306.42 for electricity and $1,203,590.86 for gas during 1966.

The payments, said Storey's letter, are part of "... our agreement with your city, paying you for the permission granted in our gas and electric franchise to use your streets and alleys. The payments from Feb. 1, 1967, through Jan. 31, 1968, will be based on revenue from your city during the calendar year of 1966."

None of the payments made to the city include revenue derived from municipal or industrial sales last year.

LBJ Requests $3.1-Billion In New Foreign Aid Funds

Assistance Would Reduce Chance of More Vietnams

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress for $3.1 billion in new foreign aid funds Thursday. He strongly advised legislators against cutting the big overseas assistance program.

"The programs I proposed represent the minimum contribution to mutual security and international development which we can safely make," Johnson said in a special message on foreign aid for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Last year the President sought $3.39 billion but Congress chopped off $450 million. The program traditionally encounters tough going on Capitol Hill.

In pleading for $2.5 billion for economic assistance and $596 million in new arms aid for some 70 lands around the world, Johnson said:

"There are some who say that even this request should be foregone in view of needs at home and the costs of the struggle in Vietnam."

"Nothing could be more shortsighted and self-defeating." Actually, Johnson said, the aid program will "reduce the chances of future Vietnams" and amounts to less than seven-tenths of 1 per cent of the national income of America, the wealthiest country in history.

No direct comparison with previous years' aid programs is possible because this year Johnson lumped large, unspecified amounts of arms aid funds into the regular U.S. defense budget.

The President listed a variety of "guiding principles" and new directions which he wants Congress to write into the foreign aid law.

He stressed, as he has before, the need for self-help by aid-receiving countries, multinational development and aid programs, promotion of agriculture, health and education abroad, limiting the dollar drain from the aid program and efficient administration.

To carry out these principles, Johnson proposed:

—Enactment of an entirely new foreign assistance legislation, to replace the existing law which has been repeatedly amended over the years.

—Creation of a national advisory committee on self-help to advise the government on how well aid-receiving nations are using their own resources.

—The earmarking of at least 85 per cent of economic development loans through multinational organizations or programs.

—Allotting a billion dollars for boosting food, education and health overseas, a 25 per cent rise over last year's foreign aid in these fields.

—A shift in American aid poli-

No Prospect Of Russian, Chinese War

LONDON (AP) — Premier Alexei Kosygin said Thursday he sees no prospect of a war between the Soviet Union and Communist China. He said Moscow will do all it can to maintain relations with Peking.

Kosygin, on a visit to London, was replying to questions at a televised news conference.

"What is happening today points to an internal struggle in China, probably under the influence of various setbacks in foreign and domestic policies, and they are probably seeking some way out in aggravation of this strife," he said.

The Soviet Union, he said, would not break diplomatic relations first: "It all depends on the other side."

Kosygin has reached the halfway point of his talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson with three Soviet themes clearly emerging: a stone wall on Vietnam peace, the urgent need for a European security system and the chance of building a vast European trading combine.

Four Youngsters Die In Fire In Slater

SLATER, Mo. (AP) — Four children died in a fire at their home Thursday. It apparently started as an explosion in an old pot-bellied, wood-burning stove.

The victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Pettigrew. They were identified as Charles, 3, Carolina, 2, Lisa, 1, and Voncille, 4 months.

Walter Wade, a deputy sheriff, said the children were alone in the house. He said Mrs. Pettigrew was at a neighbor's house and saw smoke coming from her own three-room frame home.

She ran home. When she opened the door, she was driven back by heat and fumes, Wade said. Within minutes, the house was engulfed by flames.

Chief Robert Page said the house was aflame when the Slater Volunteer Fire Department arrived.

Spread Damage And Panic

61 Persons Dead In Earthquake

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Two violent earthquakes struck Colombia Thursday, spreading damage and panic over a wide area and leaving at least 61 dead, with scores injured. The shocks were felt in neighboring Ecuador and Venezuela.

Calling this the worst earthquake ever to hit Colombia, the Interior Ministry said 28 persons were killed in Huila State, believed to be the epicenter of the quake some 180 miles south of Bogota.

Police reported 12 persons, two of them children, were killed in Bogota, some by falling walls. Thousands of people poured into the streets crying and praying after the second and strongest earthquake shock.

Downtown streets were littered with broken glass from the windows of tall buildings. Power failed and hundreds were trapped in elevators.

Authorities feared the toll would mount as disrupted communications are restored. They said many business buildings and homes were destroyed in other cities, among them Cali, Pereira, Medellin and Bucaramanga.

They reported communications were out with several areas south of the capital, where damage may be the greatest.

The first shock came at 10:27 a.m. and lasted 15 seconds. It was followed by a second and more powerful one that lasted 25 seconds.

The Geophysics Institute of the Andes said it had a magnitude of seven to eight on a scale of 12, which means considerable damage could be caused.

Walls toppled in various parts of Bogota. Several fires broke out. Four persons were injured when they fell from buildings, police reported.

One official said the drama in the streets of the capital was "indescribable."

"I saw many people in the streets fleeing without their clothes," he said. "They apparently were caught while bathing."

Personnel of the modern, 17-story U.S. Embassy fled into the street but the building was not materially damaged.

247 Pints Of Blood

FAYETTE, Mo. (AP) — A Red Cross bloodmobile collected 247 pints of blood during a one-day stop on the Central Methodist College campus.

One out of every four, faculty and students, made a donation. Last year the one-day donation added up to 211 pints.

Opposition Develops In Houses

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Both houses of the Missouri Legislature tackled major bills Thursday but had to lay them over when opposition developed.

In the Senate, Sen. A. Basye Vanlandingham, D-Colombia, brought up the governor's bill to provide state aid under the school foundation program for kindergarten pupils.

But it was attacked as just another teachers' pay raise bill by Sen. John E. Downs, D-St. Joseph, back for the first time since an automobile accident Nov. 22.

Leaning on his crutches, Downs charged the bill was "another effort of the omnivorous teachers' lobby to ram through another pay raise in the guise of helping kindergarten pupils."

The bill would cost an estimated $5,162,000 in its first year of operation, based on the 56,000-plus kindergartners now attending classes in 131 of the state's 489 school districts.

Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, tried to nail this down with an amendment to insure that the money would be spent solely for kindergarten training. That was pending when Vanlandingham had to lay the bill over for noon adjournment.

In the House, opposition arose to a bill that would require prevailing wages to be paid on all public works construction projects. That one had to be laid over, too.

The House got a new congressional redistricting plan that comes closer than ever to the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote mandate. It was offered by Rep. J. Anthony Dill, R-Affton.

Under his plan, the 1st District in St. Louis would be the largest with a population variation from the norm of 431,981 of slightly more than one per cent. The 9th of northeastern Missouri would be the smallest with a variation of slightly more than one per cent under the norm.

A bill by Sen. Omer H. Avery, D-Troy, with a population variation of about 6 per cent, comes up for its first hearing before the Senate Apportionment Committee Monday afternoon.

The House received a bill for a $1.25 an hour minimum wage and the Senate got one to permit dissemination of birth control information.

Meanwhile leaders of both houses appointed a conference committee to iron differences on an $8 million emergency appropriation bill.

The conference committee is headed by the two appropriations chairmen—Sen. J.F. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, and Rep. E.J. Cantrell, D-Overland. The committee met briefly Thursday and plans another session Monday.

Name Cunningham As CMSC Regent

J. M. Cunningham, 1605 West 16th, was appointed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes today to be a member of the board of regents for Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

Cunningham, a Republican, is president of Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage Co., and has been in business here over 20 years.

His appointment fills the vacancy created when John C. Ryan, also a Sedalian, successfully ran for public office.

EDITORIALS

Age 60 and Ready to Burst

We've reached that point of age when mention of anything that happened a half century or more ago in Sedalia attracts more of our attention than comments about stabilizing mini skirts in London.

That's why an item of news last week was of such personal interest when it called attention to the fact that the lone feeder line from the waterworks to the city was 60 years old.

We missed watching them laying the line in 1907 because that was the year we moved from the house on the southwest corner of Broadway and Monticau to the northeast corner of Third and Grand avenue. It was a busy time at home, and less time for trudging to Flat Creek — I was 10 and Kelly was 2.

Our Boy Scout days encompassed many week ends in territory around the waterworks, the Old Covered Bridge, the swimming hole at the dam below on Flat Creek, Thatcher's and Grand avenue fords.

Sixty years ago is a long, long time and it's a wonder that old pipe line has held up this long. Some sewer pipes around our home place today are paper thin, the plumber tells us. You can stick your finger right through the pipe in some spots.

Herbert Taylor, manager of the water department, and the Public Works board both have a right to be uneasy about the possibility of an old, single feeder line from the waterworks springing a massive leak or two and putting Sedalia's water supply in temporary jeopardy. So if a growing community's subdivisions want water piped in, the board has to deny this because of the risk involved to the community at large.

Water department officials, cognizant of this condition, have taken steps to rectify it by applying for a grant of $165,400 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. With that and other funds locally available, then laying of a second feeder line can be started.

Sedalia must not be dependent much longer on one feeder line 60 years old. Therefore the Department of Housing and Urban Development must be encouraged to accelerate the application for a grant if that is what it takes to get the job done.

Government departments of all sorts do not have a reputation for rapidity in processing applications. We have had five communications relating to a $25 claim on Medicare. Four months have passed and no sign of a reimbursement for this single claim, although others have been paid. It's the red tape unwinding.

But a similar delay should not happen to the water department's grant.

If that 60 year old cast iron water main bursts there's going to be a lot of moaning around here which will be heard all the way to Washington or wherever this application rests — presumably at the bottom of a spike full of other applications.

Tow-Away Crisis Disrupts the U. N.

DREW PEARSON
and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — U.N. Diplomats are not nearly as worried over the war in Vietnam as they are about the great tow-away controversy. Some have even threatened to break diplomatic relations and move the United Nations out of New York City, over the indignity of having their limousines hauled away for parking violations.

A confidential survey, conducted by pollster Lou Harris, forewarned of trouble weeks before Mayor John Lindsay, in a desperate effort to clear up New York City's paralyzed traffic, ordered the police to tow away illegally parked cars.

At first, Lindsay gave no quarter to diplomats, who are accustomed to immunity from parking regulations. But this action virtually caused an international incident, finally compelling him to modify his stand slightly.

Before the Mayor's crackdown, Harris's interviewers asked 138 U.N. diplomats from Algeria to Zambia how they liked New York City. Though four out of five spoke favorably of the city, citing its cultural and cosmopolitan advantages, most also had some sour comments. Foremost was the parking problem.

In his confidential report, Harris spelled out the problems of the individual diplomat: "As a foreigner, he often has a language barrier. As a diplomat, he sometimes suffers prejudice against some of his legal privileges. As an African or Asian he often finds himself in a hostile society — not by choice, but because it is his job.

Housing and Taxes

"When obtaining housing, a problem for any New Yorker at best, the diplomat is encumbered with his legal immunity and the fact that he is subject to transfer on short notice. Thus landlords are wary and ask for larger security deposits. Diplomats have difficulty getting the tax exemption that is lawfully theirs. They have parking problems. They face a vindictive daily newspaper.

"Many of these problems the diplomats simply does not have to face in other cities around the world. In most cities, including Washington, D.C., there is a diplomatic clause in leases which stipulates that upon proof of transfer, plus one month's rent, the lease becomes void. The diplomats want this clause in New York.

"In other cities, the diplomat simply shows his identification and he is exempt from taxes. In other cities, the diplomat is not threatened with a tow-away. If other cities can get along with diplomats, why not New York?"

N. Y. News Campaign

Two out of three diplomats, Harris found, have had parking problems. Harris blames this upon "an intensive negative publicity campaign on the part of one particular newspaper in New York." This is a reference to the New York Daily News which has stirred up "real public ferment of this issue," causing "a major problem for diplomats."

Harris quoted an African diplomat as complaining: "Often before I arrive, someone else has taken my parking space. Frequently I am forced to double park because my space has been taken."

An European diplomat added: "Parking privileges are a reciprocal thing all over the world."

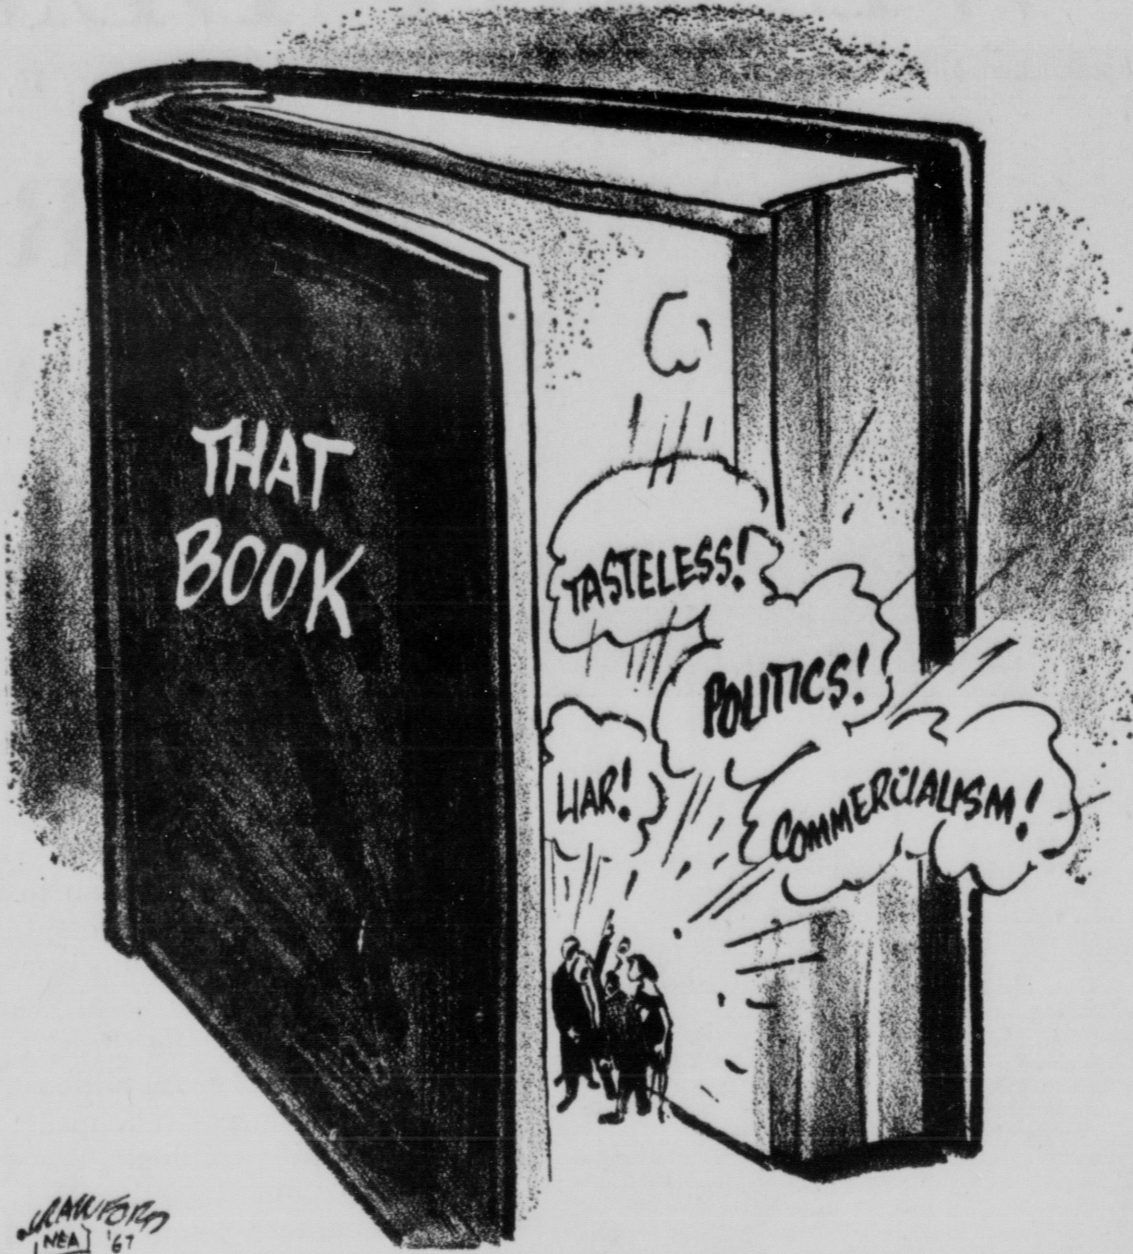

Concluded the confidential Harris report: "Arrogance on the part of diplomats certainly cannot be justified. Nor, on the other hand, can the situation tolerate continuing newspaper harassment and anything less than full sensitivity and understanding on the part of the police department and the city administration.

"It is inconceivable that the city would consider punitive solutions. It would break the protocol of international courtesy offered foreign diplomats. The repercussions would be worldwide and a great deal more damaging to United States diplomats than any other single group."

Harris points out: "Having the headquarters of the United Nations located in Manhattan benefits New York City immeasurably. It adds to the cosmopolitan nature of the city, is a major tourist attraction and, in hard cash, is a significant factor in the economic base of the city."

Ambassador Arthur Goldberg is quietly seeking a truce in the cold war between the United Nations and New York City.

Turn Signal's Flashing
An Added PrecautionBy POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Polly

DEAR POLLY — When parking one's car and pulling on the emergency brake, flip the lever for one of the turn signals. When you return to the car and turn on the motor, the flashing of the turn signal indicator is a reminder that the emergency brake is on. Doing this a few times soon makes it a habit. There was a time when I used to start driving with the emergency brake on most of the time but this cured me. — L. V. H.

DEAR POLLY — Tell Barbara to get a bathroom towel bar and fasten it to the back of a bedroom door or inside of a closet door to hold her bedspread at night. She might even go a step further and wrap a towel around the bar, sewing the loose ends together or she could take the cardboard rolls from paper towels, slit them lengthwise and slip over the bar. This would prevent a crease in the spread caused by the rod. — MRS. L. D.

DEAR POLLY — Faced with the same situation as Barbara I obtained a heavy cardboard tube from a carpet store, cut it to the width of my bed and then placed it at the headboard and rolled the spread to the bottom. This rolled spread could be placed on a chest, bench or an opened dresser drawer at night. In the morning simply roll the spread on the bed and leave the tube at the top under the pillows. It will be out of sight, covered with the pillows, and the spread will be neat and tidy. The tube also helps one to roll pillows into a bolster shape. — PAT B.

DEAR POLLY — I solved the wrinkled bedspread problem by folding my spread in half the long way and hanging it over the top of the closet door at night. If the spread wrinkles easily, a twisted roll of tissue paper can be inserted in the fold at the place that touches the top of the door. I keep a child's small stool in the closet. This not only makes it easier to hang my spread but enables me to reach things on the top shelf. Many thanks to you and all the gals who have eased some of the burden for this nine-member family — BETTE

With today's hand we take leave of the 1966 American team trials, concluding with the silliest hand of the event.

At four of the five tables South opened with a preemptive bid of three hearts. West could not find a bid and East would have liked to double but there was no hope that his partner would leave the double in.

There was little to the play. West would open the jack of clubs. East would win and cash his ace of trumps. Eventually the defense would wind up with three clubs, one spade, one diamond and four trumps. South would be down five for minus 250 but he would be happy about the whole thing.

East and West can make game in no-trump, spades or clubs. They can actually make six clubs by playing exactly one round of trumps but that sort of play is likely only if you are playing with all hands exposed.

As we said, North and South were happy until the results came in. At the one table where South failed to preempt North opened with three diamonds.

This three diamond opening was East's cup of tea. He had a fine take-out double and proceeded to make it.

West liked his hand and made a forcing bid of four diamonds. East bid four hearts and West

Senegal: New Nation

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Cyrene Dear is on a newspaper study mission to Africa with the National Newspaper Association.)

BY CYRENE DEAR

DAKAR, SENEGAL—Minister of the Senegal Foreign Office Doudou Thiam, meeting with members of the National Newspaper Association, said that the greatest problem in this new republic is economic development. It is the same old story of poor nations not being paid enough for their goods and paying too much for their imports.

Senegal is a small, poor country about the size of South Dakota with a population comparable to Chicago. Most of the people live in rural areas except for the growing metropolis of Dakar, the largest city in West Africa. There are only two seasons here. Although we are now in the dry season, the ocean breezes are cooling and refreshing.

Senegal's chief products are peanuts and millet. The peanuts are exported mostly to France, but when the embassy personnel want good, crunchy peanut butter they get it from the States. A strange breed of cattle, a Brahman hybrid, roams the flatlands, but the productive use of these animals is relatively low.

The African people are very colorful. Most of the tribal people are short and stocky with broad noses. An exception to this is the Wolof tribe, whose members are tall and statuesque with long, straight noses. Their teeth are amazingly white, attributed by some of the licorice wood stick that they chew. It is little wonder that African print materials have become high fashion in the States and elsewhere because they are unusual and intricate. The women wear layers of material flowing loosely from their shoulders. However, they are cool because the air circulates through their clothing as they walk along with stately posture, baskets on their heads and babies tied to their backs. They wear heavy silver bracelets and their mutilated ears, with a variety of earrings, are a status symbol. The turbans on their heads often match the material in their gowns.

Senegal is feeling all the growing pains of a new nation. She is very conscious of her position in the United Nations. Like the other African nations, she is anxious to define her problems in a world organization. Rather than be identified as East or West, Senegal, with other developing countries, decided to form a third group to present a peaceful, unbiased opinion in the U.N.

The foreign minister discussed the idea of a federation of African states, but he felt that the first step was to form regional groups in the North, East, South and West. He said that the Senegalese government had no ambition to become a leader of West Africa.

Mr. Thiam gave his opinion on Vietnam: "I would have preferred that the United States would have consulted the rest of the world before starting the war in Vietnam. The situation there should be resolved by the Vietnamese themselves. If the went to five clubs. East really should have passed but he felt sure that his partner held four spades. Otherwise West would just have bid five clubs directly over the double. So East went to five spades.

Five spades was a reasonable contract but there was no way that East could handle North's four spades and he had to go down one trick.

Thus we had four North-South pairs at minus 250 and one at plus 100 so that minus 250 was a two IMP loss instead of a gain.

The Poet Laureate of England is the official poet of His Majesty's Court. He is responsible for producing appropriate verses for noted state occasions, says The World Almanac. Although no authentic record exists as to its origin, the post is known to have been held by Geoffrey Chaucer (1340-1400) who received a small pension and a yearly allowance of wine for his work. William Wordsworth and Alfred Tennyson were also Poets Laureate. Since 1930, the post has been held by John Masefield.

two Vietnamese divisions continue to be dependent upon foreign powers, they should revert to the Geneva agreements. There can be no negotiations unless the National Liberation Party is included. The problems in Southeast Asia cannot be settled without recognizing Communist China."

The foreign minister spoke the policy of his government in the absence of President Le'opold Sedar Senghor, who was at his private estate preparing the speech he is soon to deliver in Cairo. The President is a highly educated French African, widely recognized as a poet, scholar and statesman. He is popular but still very pro-French, and some of the Senegalese intellectuals are eager to break away from French influence. But most of the aid comes from France and it is hard to bite the hand that feeds. The children go to French schools and French teachers are predominate in the universities.

About 80 percent of the Senegalese are Moslem. A beautiful new mosque was recently dedicated by King Hassan of Morocco. There is a Catholic cathedral in Dakar and a small Protestant church.

One of the tragedies of Senegal is that, according to a U.S. Medical official in Dakar, 50 percent of the native children die before the age of five from malnutrition, measles and a rare blood disease that so far has not been diagnosed. Leprosy is very common, but the victims are being isolated and treated.

The American Colony is not very large here. The officials, cognizant of the strong French background and careful about projecting the American image too much, are working quietly for the best interests of both countries.

The Peace Corps is headed by a Boston Negro, Mr. Carrington. He is a Harvard graduate who is concentrating on social work volunteers, teachers and technicians. The demand for teachers who have learned tribal languages and who can teach English is very great. The headquarters are in Dakar, but about 90 workers live in the villages in very primitive conditions. A few volunteers were present at the meeting with Director Carrington and were typical examples of the finest young Americans — clean cut, enthusiastic, intelligent and optimistic. Mr. Carrington admitted that there were many problems of frustration, health and discouragement, but on the whole the Peace Corps in Africa is popular and successful.

Pupils See Challenges In S-C Home Economics Study

By Becky Young

In the modern rooms of the Physical Education and Fine Arts Building is housed one of the most interesting departments at Smith-Cotton High School — the Home Economics Department. Approximately 400 girls, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Maddox, Mrs. Rosalie Smith, and Mrs. Linda Reed, bustle around gleaming white kitchens and operate modern sewing machines. The five principal areas of study are clothing, foods, home decoration, child care, and family relations.

All of these courses are designed to prepare girls to take their places in the home now and when they are established in their own homes.

Classes Challenge Girls

Clothing classes at Smith-Cotton are designed for girls with a special interest in sewing. Students come into the classes with a wide range of skills and experiences, but the utmost effort is made to challenge each girl. Therefore, individual projects vary a great deal.

The first project in these classes was a basic wool dress or suit. These were entered in the district "Make It Yourself With Wool Contest," held in Sedalia. Three girls from Sedalia, Sue McMullin, Linda Bryden and Connie Rhodes received honors for their wool garments.

Since Christmas the classes have been in a detailed study of textiles. They will make a field trip to a local fabric shop to become familiar with the different weaves and materials.

Other plans for the second semester include a child's garment, a spring dress, and remodeling project. Clothing made in these classes is exhibited in the showcase in the Physical Education Building and provides a colorful display throughout the school year.

Cindy Young, a senior in homemaking this year, explains her feelings about sewing this way: "An artist doesn't take any more pride in his work than a girl who completes her first wool dress. Sewing is the most satisfying pastime I know."

Principles of Cookery

The main purpose of courses in cookery are learning nutrition (selecting foods wisely), shopping (buying economically), preparation (getting the most nourishment for one's money), and manners and social graces.

The advanced foods classes have been studying preparation and possibilities of different cuts of meat, and they are planning to visit a local store to study meat costs. The girls are also studying meal-planning on the three-meal-a-day plan. Other projects this year were baking their own breads and rolls and making jellies and jams. Before the Christmas holidays, the cooking room was filled with delicious aroma of cookies, candies, and fruit-cakes as the classes began their holiday cookery.

Beginning classes have had a busy schedule this year, studying nutrition and the preparation of foods, also based on the three-meal-a-day plan. They prepare simple meals, placing emphasis on the reasons for doing things and bringing out principles of cookery. Mrs. Maddox stresses home practice, asking each girl to repeat at home the lessons she has at school. Another important part of beginning foods is learning the use and care of the modern appliances in the kitchens. "One of the most important things you learn in Homemaking is working and getting along with others and doing your share of the work," explains Barbara Phillips, a freshman in the class.

The Family Relations class, made up of forty senior girls, studies each girl's place as a member of her family — what her family gives to her and what she owes to them. The girls study the problems of teenagers and how to meet them with open minds so that they will make wise decisions. The class will study budgeting, improving personality, religion, preparation for marriage, and child care. Family Relations is principally a discussion class that requires wide outside reading. Darlene Perkins, a senior, says, "The most enjoyable part of Home Economics, for me, is the class discussions, where we really let off steam."

Will Visit Canada

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia will visit Canada April 26 through May 4, the Foreign Office announced.

EIGHTH GRADERS — Cindy Huffman, Mary May, Penny Buchanan, and Leslie Morton watch hungrily as Carol Knight spoons her batch on the cookie sheet. These girls are in Mrs. Reed's eighth grade homemaking class.

CHECKING—Mrs. Smith checks Alice York's spring coat pattern for fit. This is the first of many fittings in the construction of such a garment. Watching is (l to r) Brenda Schilbinger, Linda Wright and Millie Warren.

PATTY Brooks replaces a pin as Linda Bryden prepares to cut out a garment. Looking on are (l to r) Marilyn Stubinger, Nancy Raabe, Pam Burton, Joy Cramer and Rhonda Biggs.

PARTICIPATED — Members of the Future Homemakers of America participate in a state-wide cleanup campaign by making posters with anti-litter slogans and colorful pictures to be distributed throughout the school building as a reminder to the students to keep the halls and campus clean. The girls are: Sue McMullin, president; Alice York, Carla Quinn, project chairman; Mrs. Mary Maddox, sponsor; Sharon Wissman, Linda Wright, Nancy Raabe, Millie Warren, Nancy Doogs, and Laura Wolkey.

Mars May Have Heart Of Pure Gold

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Men visiting Mars some day may find the mysterious red planet has a heart of gold.

A warm heart, or core—preferably of molten iron—is necessary if a planet is to form mountains, oceans, continents and an atmosphere, two scientists report.

But, says geophysicist D. L. Anderson of the California Institute of Technology and R.H. Phinney of Princeton University, Mars is really a cold fish at heart.

There's still hope of change, give or take a half billion years.

They said their calculations indicate Mars is an evolutionary slowpoke as planets go. Earth, they said, apparently developed from a cold solid body—like Mars—into a planet with a zoned interior and variable surface features.

Theory has it, they said in an interview, that the earth's molten core is the result of tremendous pressure from gravitational forces, the constant force creates enough heat to keep the core in a liquid state.

Geophysicists say that if Mars does have a molten core, it's a small one, partly because Mars, among planets, is no giant. It's only slightly more than half the size of earth.

Another theory has it that Mars may have a molten core, heated by radioactivity. Anderson and Phinney dispute this.

"Our calculations show," Anderson said, "that the interior temperatures of Mars are such that iron won't start melting in the center of the planet for another half billion years."

So what does all this mean? Mars, they explained, may thus be considered a primitive model of the earth.

WRAP CAKES — Laura Wolkey, Pamela Maples and Margaret Hopkins (l to r) wrap fruit cakes baked by the advanced foods class. The cakes are wrapped and stored for class use and tested periodically for flavor.

USE TEXTBOOKS — Linda Hatfield, Sherlene Bidstrup, and Shirley Miner, all seniors in Mrs. Maddox's Family Relations Class, find their textbooks helpful in forming attitudes for family living
